

Every scar tells a story.

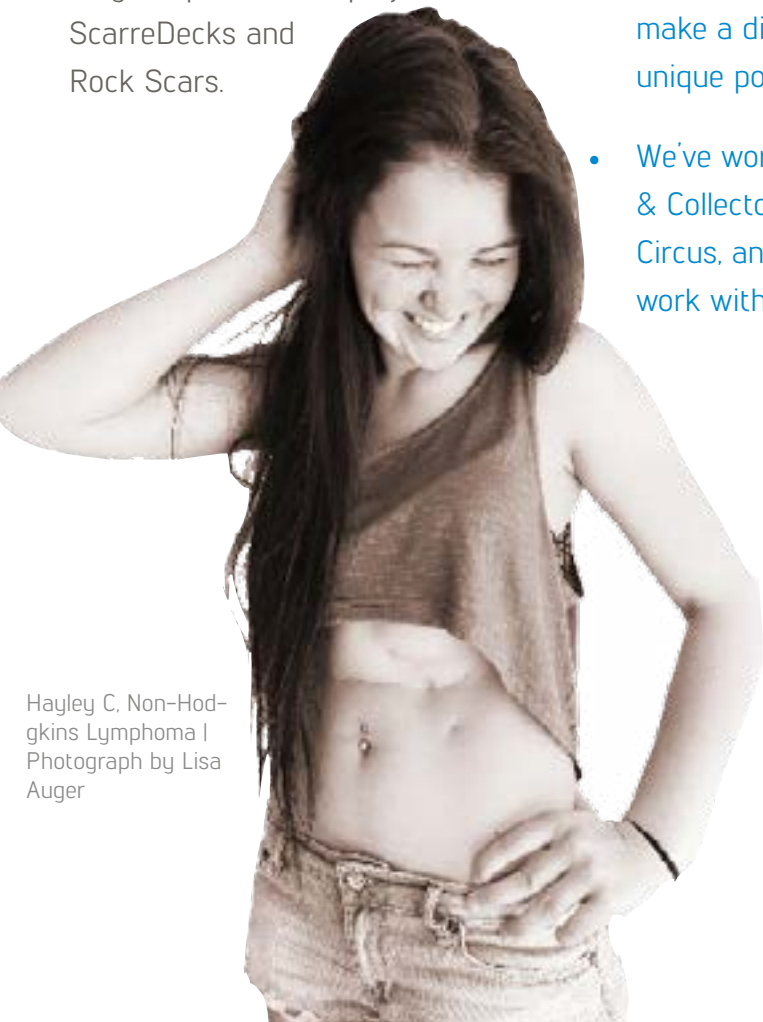

Lucy, Ewings Sarcoma Survivor | Photo by April Kendall

ABOUT SCAR STORIES

THE NEXT STEP

GET INVOLVED

- Scar Stories uses photography, music and art to help young adults see their cancer scars in a new light – one that is empowering and beautiful.
- In 2014 we raised thousands of dollars towards these initiatives. We published a book, held numerous photographic exhibitions, and commenced two very unique creative projects; ScarreDecks and Rock Scars.

Hayley C, Non-Hodgkins Lymphoma | Photograph by Lisa Auger

- We want to help our patients and survivors access art, photography and music lessons so that they can continue to feel empowered during treatment and survivorship.
- As a not-for-profit and registered charity, Scar Stories is working with limited donated funds to make a difference to this unique population.
- We've worked with Hunters & Collectors, Dead Letter Circus, and now we want to work with you!

- We're looking for generous and compassionate creatives to donate spaces in their existing classes and workshops for young adult cancer patients and survivors.
- If you run art, music, or photography workshops or classes (or anything creative really!) we would love to chat with you about the ways we can support our brave, empowered patients and survivors.

Every scar tells a story.
Your support will help us tell theirs!

CONTACT

JASMINE GAILER
SCAR STORIES PRESIDENT

M 0435 329 717

E hello@scarstories.org

W scarstories.org

Having battled and survived bone cancer, Scar Stories is a very personal project, close to Jasmine's heart. With a passion and commitment to making a difference to the lives of young cancer survivors, Jasmine inspires and coordinates others to achieve Scar Stories' objectives.

