

Katherine Gorman

Senior Producer

As a senior producer for Collective Next I help groups to communicate about issues that matter to them, to find the “human heart” at the center of their world and community.

Experience

Senior Producer, Collective Next, LLC

January 2016–Present

Design, pitch, and create new podcasts for clients. Oversee creative design, piloting and production phases of podcasts. Design and oversee audio interventions for events and exercises. Coordinate editing and prepare tape for broadcast. Help clients to organize and hone messages for a variety of scaled communications including live talks, videos and podcasts.

Associate Producer, WBUR and NPR’s Here and Now

August 2012—April 2014

Conceive, prepare, produce and edit one to three radio segments per day to air on national radio. Part of the seventeen member team of producers, hosts and engineers that produces NPR’s daily mid-day news magazine show, Here and Now, the first collaboration between NPR and a member station to create flagship programming. Serve as General Assignment producer, in addition to working with science, music and media analysis correspondents.

Public Radio Producer

May 2006–August 2012

Veteran general assignment reporter and producer with specialties in politics, science, and culture working in public radio stations across the country. Expert in audio recording, engineering, editing and distribution using a variety of professional and commodity hardware and software tools. Served as fill-in local host, director and engineer for broadcasts at WYPR in Baltimore Maryland.
