The YMCA of Meriden Connecticut has recently formed a partnership with IDLife Corporation as part of an employee wellness initiative. The launch was such a success with our staff we incorporated the program into our corporate wellness package in addition to our own member wellness offerings.

As the Health and Wellness Director of the Meriden YMCA I have always been interested in establishing an Employee Wellness Program for our staff and IDLife Corporation has helped us to do just that. The folks at IDLife Corporation offer a comprehensive package of both clean and safe nutritional products along with an educational component that has something for everyone. Dr. Iorio and his staff of professionals always include the YMCA programs and services when initiating any corporate wellness package to the businesses in our community.

The program has been well received by our staff, (especially the Fitness App.), and we are in the process of rolling out the program to our members as well. IDLife Corporation offers a variety of options designed specifically for non-profits that make the program a win-win for everyone.

What makes the overall program offered by IDLife Corporation such a great fit for any YMCA is that it is designed for kids and adults, the average Joe and athletes alike. We have received the most amazing support and dedication from Dr. Iorio and his staff all the way on up to the corporate level. The implementation for us has been seamless and required little effort or cost. I challenge anyone to try to find anything like this out on the market today!
