INNOVEST PORTFOLIO SOLUTIONS' WENDY DOMINGUEZ NAMED ONE OF THE MOST INFLUENTIAL WOMEN IN BENEFIT ADVISING BY EMPLOYEE BENEFIT ADVISER MAGAZINE

Denver, CO—November 19, 2014—Innovest Portfolio Solutions (“Innovest”) is proud to recognize Wendy Dominguez, President and Principal, for receiving Employee Benefit Adviser Magazines’ (“EBA”) award for one of the Most Influential Women in Benefit Advising.

"An impactful way to help women succeed is to support and be a role model for balance — balancing personal life with work demands, balancing people resources and client expectations, balancing professional dedication to company culture with exceptional task execution," Mrs. Dominguez tells EBN editors. "For example, our firm has a practice of hiring highly educated former stay-at-home mothers, with the gift of balance."

The Most Influential Women in Benefit Advising Award recognizes extraordinary contributions to the field of benefits advising. Finalists were carefully selected by Employee Benefit Adviser editors from more than 90 online nominations. According to EBA’s editors, the 20 women chosen to receive the inaugural Most Influential Women in Benefit Advising award are also elevating the status of all women in the profession in the process, from technological innovators to compliance experts, plan design specialists to caring mentors. These women represent an elite group of professionals, mentors and role models in the benefits advising field.

"We are all so thrilled that Wendy was selected as a recipient for this esteemed award," said Rich Todd, CEO of Innovest. "Wendy’s expertise is a cornerstone to the success of our firm, and her influence, leadership and mentorship has been essential to the achievement and advancement of so many of our associates, male and female."
