APPRAISALS

Family Affairs Services LLC is a locally owned and operated appraisal company under the direction of Ms. Brooke Thompson. Her written appraisals can be used for expert witness, court, or insurance purposes.

Complimented by her expert staff, Family Affairs specializes in comprehensive inventories and appraisals of personal property and household liquidation.

Our expertise also extends from the documented appraisals of diverse personal properties and antiques, costume jewelry, furs, toys, Native American artifacts, general household contents and even into various makes of tools. Tailored to your specific needs, we can turn a daunting task into an efficient process. The type of appraisal selected is directed by you, the client; either replacement value appraisal or fair market value appraisal, as needed.

WE DO NOT DO REAL ESTATE SALES, however, we can recommend qualified real estate professionals in the area.

ESTATE LIQUIDATION

Family Affairs also liquidates estates and personal properties. We conduct a sale over a number of days and display the items to be liquidated in the home. Items are cleaned and priced, then sold in the most professional manner. Our experience indicates that this type of sale yields more revenue than does a simple auction. When hiring us you can afford to relax in the knowledge that your estate will be liquidated in a professional and efficient manner.

What we do...

Once your family has decided what will be kept, Family Affairs reorganizes the contents, pricing all items at fair market value, dividing out what will be sold, what can be donated, and what will be refuse. Valuables are stored in a secure display case.

Our sales are aggressively advertised. We also have a list of private clientele that are notified when a sale is taking place.

We understand the delicate nature of a liquidation. We will work closely with the executor and the family to make certain that all matters will be taken care of with the utmost professionalism.

If it is not practical to run a sale, Family Affairs will make offers on items of interest and provide recommendations for other selling options for the rest of the items.
