Your probably wondering who those women are with me in the photo’s. Well I’ve got a kinda funny story…….. Steve and I were on a jazz cruise at the beginning of the month and in all my years cruising I’ve never had a female captain. As I read the paperwork left in our cabin I saw Captain Kate AND the Hotel Director were both women. While standing around our muster station with every other guest on the ship we hear a female voice (Captain Kate) come over the loudspeaker and welcome us. I’m in awe; thinking this is amazing!

Steve asks me, ya wanna meet her? YES! He promptly says I’ll get you a picture with her sometime this week. Laughingly I’m like yeah, right……. Well one morning he goes to grab a latte. When he returns he opens the door and says I’ve brought someone to meet you…….mind you I was laying about reading in my bathrobe. We were travelling with friends so I figured it was one of them. Well imagine my surprise and a bit of embarrassment when Captain Kate & Director Danuta walk in and deliver my cappuccino! Steve saw them having coffee, politely interrupted and inquired if there was any way he could introduce me and get a picture. She promptly said, where is she? When Steve replied up in our room, she said well let’s go meet her. When they got to the door she asked Steve which was mine and very sweetly delivered my coffee to me.

When I explained how inspiring it was to see a woman in her position of power and elaborated on wanting the photo for this newsletter she very graciously offered to don a robe also. Lol! I couldn’t let her cover those epaulettes, Thank goodness we saw them again later and I was able to take a dressed for the day photo. Captain Kate noted that their ship had the most women in officer capacity of the Celebrity fleet. That’s what I love to hear, women helping women achieve their career goals. Three cheers for Captain Kate!

Master: Captain Kate McCue

Captain Kate was born in San Francisco, CA. Her passion for cruising began at 12 years old when her parents took her on her first cruise. She attended the California Maritime Academy and upon graduating she has worked her way up to her current position and is proud to serve as the Master of the Celebrity Summit since 2015. Her top priority is the safety of all onboard, your cruise experience and the welfare of the crew. She enjoys interacting with her guests and when not onboard, she spends her vacations enjoying time at home in Las Vegas with her husband, who is a Chief Engineer. For a behind the scenes glimpse into the adventures of being a Captain, make sure to check out @captainkatemccue on Instagram “Seas the Day”!

ISEC

"this highlights our ability to manage multiple scopes of work"

Her current position with ISEC is in Business Development; after 10 plus years on the project management side of the industry. Her responsibilities include procuring contracts for projects that contain Architectural Woodwork, DF&H, General Trades, Laboratory Casework & Fume Hoods, Laboratory & Medical Equipment, Ornamental & Decorative Metals, and Specialties in her territory. She’s involved with building and maintaining relationships within the industry and staying current on construction trends and material/design utilization to better serve her Customers.

Her best project (shown below) Washington State University Digital Classroom which is memorable to me as it was the last project I was involved in as a PM. It was a Design Build contract with Clark Construction Group and SRG (located in Pullman, WA). It highlights ISEC’s ability to manage multiple scopes of work on a single project which included Architectural Casework, Finish Carpentry, Precast Treads, Ornamental Metal and Glass Railings, Wood Wall paneling, Wood Seating, Roller Shades, and Specialties. The feedback from the design team was that WSU was very pleased with the end product.
Eastern Washington Retreat Recap

The Spokane & Tri-Cities chapters knocked it clear out of the park! What a great time was had by all.

To the left we’re all assembled around the winning team building skyscraper. Mel’s directions left us all working as fast as we could to erect our structures.

Below we’re walking in the mud while looking at steel going in for the casino expansion.

The hotel was really nice and the spa was bliss! I can’t say enough about the quality of not just the program but the surroundings as well. MANY THANKS to our hostess chapters and speakers!

WIC Week

Happy February. We are only one month away to WIC week. Don’t forget to celebrate the week of March 4 – 8, 2018. There will be Region and National awards as outlined below:

The 2018 WIC Week Awards are as follows:

- Highest quantity of events/activities completed in order to increase the visibility of women in the construction industry during WIC Week.
- Event/Activity that appears to have reached the most people to increase the visibility of women in the construction industry during WIC Week.
- Most notable inquiry/conversation about women in construction during WIC Week. This would be a notable encounter that happened during WIC Week, due to a WIC Week event or activity, which appeared to truly change someone’s view of women in the industry. I am hoping to get stories from across the nation of how your activities impacted particular individuals who were unaware of the strength of and opportunities for, women in this industry.

The commitment forms were due to National on January 5th. Unfortunately we did not have full cooperation with four chapters not remitting their forms giving us a 64.29%.

Please don’t hesitate to contact me with any questions on activities for WIC Week.
Do you know someone who deserves recognition?

The NAWIC Education Foundation (NEF) has two wonderful awards for the Construction/Education Community. Take a moment and think about your Chapter and your Region. There is someone who has made Construction Education a priority, a passion.

Go to the NEF Website www.nef-edu.org and nominate them for one of these National awards.

Help us recognize these women and men who shine a light on Construction Education.

First Award – Open to both men and women

Carol A. Kueker Construction Education Visionary Award

Do you know an Educator or Construction Education Advocate that you would like to see recognized on a National level who has a passion for and dedication to Construction Education? This award recognizes a Construction Industry Educator who has worked aggressively to promote Construction as a viable career path through training and education and/or has worked with Associations and other organizations to establish educational programs to advance and benefit employees in the Construction Industry.

Second Award – NEF Volunteer or NAWIC Member

Darline H. Johnson Volunteer Achievement Award

Established in 1993 this award recognizes an NEF volunteer or NAWIC member for outstanding service as a Volunteer for NEF on a local, regional and/or National Level. This award highlights the individual that has gone beyond what is normally expected. This award may not necessarily be awarded every year.

OREGON COAST RETREAT
FEBRUARY 23-24, 2018

Salem Chapter #198 would like to invite each of you to the annual Oregon Coast Retreat. This event has been hosted annually by the Oregon chapters of NAWIC since 1989. This year’s event will be the last weekend in February, with check-in and hospitality commencing on Friday, February 23 around 6pm. Saturday is a day of fun, learning and activities. Dinner is on your own, but of course, group dinners/outings are always encouraged. Sunday is "on your own" as folks make their way back home. It’s a quick weekend away to the Oregon coast, but one we look forward to each and every year. We’re hoping many of our Pacific Northwest Region members will be able to join us for this fun and relaxing weekend! Please don’t hesitate to email with questions and be sure to reserve your room by January 23rd, if you’re planning to attend.
