ABOUT JORDAN:

Pendleton, Indiana resident Jordan Dickey never really wanted to play Power Soccer. When Dickey was a shy 11-year-old, his mom learned of a Power Soccer clinic in their area and she forced him to try it. The result was love at first sight. "Once I rolled onto the court for the first time, I didn't want to leave," Dickey said.

Dickey, who plays for RHI Sudden Impact, was on the 2011 World Cup team and had a grand time, so he wanted to try to make the team again. Dickey knew with the begin-nings of the Strike Force, created by Power Soccer Shop, he "would have to work even harder to make the team." That's because the specialized chair makes it easier for eve-ryone to play. Nonetheless, Dickey admitted since he had support of family and friends, he didn't have any obstacles at making the team. "Of course I had to work hard to get here," Dickey then mentioned.

Dickey is a sports fanatic. "I love to watch any sporting event especially soccer and basketball," he says. He also likes to go to his brothers' games. When Dickey isn't doing something sports related, he likes to spend time with family. Because Dickey is into sports so much, he "graduated from Arizona State University with a Bachelor of Arts in Sports Business" in 2015 and plans on going too school to get a MBA starting this year. Dickey hopes to get a job in "the marketing department of a professional basketball or soccer team."
