Western Justice Center is proud to present, Empower, an evening of conflict resolution, equity and community. Join Co-hosts, Tanya Acker (WJC Executive Board Member, Co-Host of Emmy-nominated Hot Bench and Host of The Tanya Acker Show podcast), and Kevin Frazier (Host of Entertainment Tonight, 5x Emmy winner) for a virtual event fundraiser with real life examples of conflict resolution and equity. Empower supports the transformative work of WJC.

The work of Western Justice Center is more important now than ever. Our goal is to promote the peaceful resolution of conflicts - and now we are living through the greatest conflict of our century. Whether it’s the frustrations of home quarantine; the infuriation of systemic injustice - repeated on a smaller scale in the grocery store; or in the park; or anywhere - or whether it’s just the garden variety fights that can spiral into something bigger - conflict can dominate the conversation.

You can help us change the conversation. We want to add your voice to the chorus of resolution. Tell us about your fights. Tell us about how you fix them. Be one of the seeds of solution . . .

SOME SPECIFIC PROMPTS TO GET YOU GOING

- What’s the best advice you have for solving a fight with someone you love? What about when it’s someone you don’t know –but you have to work together or collaborate in some way?
- What’s the best thing ever to come out of a fight you’ve had? How did you get there?
- Tell us about a time you were so right about something, and turned out to be wrong. Feel free to act it out (without hurting anyone). We’d love that! 😊
- Tell us a story about a time when you were really wrong about something? What did you do to fix it?
- Please describe something that never used to bother you that now does (especially after being quarantined in your house 😢). What do you do?
- How do you admit when you’re wrong?
- Have you had to resolve any conflicts among young people and what tools did you use?
- In a moment where there is more conflict than ever - or at least - more conflict than many of us ever remember. What can you do as an individual, what can we all do as a community to bring about change?

SUBMIT YOUR VIDEOS

- Videos should be filmed on your cellphone using landscape orientation (3-5 minutes)
- Submit your videos to erin@westernjustice.org by September 25, 2020