

Course FAQ

How does it work?

Every month you'll receive an email detailing the topics and tutorials for the month. You are free to peruse that information at your leisure. You will also receive an email every Monday with our Curated Content—links, quotes and other points of interest related to the monthly topic of discussion.

How will I access the course?

You will create a private account and password and log in to access the class through Jane's website—www.janedunnewold.com. Any iPad, iPhone, tablet or computer can be used to access the website where all of the videos, essays and tutorials are housed. You will need a Facebook account to access the private course group page on Facebook.

Privacy:

We do not share personal information with any outside businesses, lists or other entities. We do not share personal information among members of the group without permission.

Time Commitment:

There is no official time commitment when you sign up for the CST course. You can participate as much or as little as you desire. We encourage participation in the online Facebook group, or with friends or a group with which you have enrolled, and we are delighted to hear about your conversations and creations. But you are never under any obligation. There are no “assignments.”

Group Participation:

Participants can sign up with a partner, or with a group. One person should be designated as the “leader” mainly to keep our accounting records straight. That person should be referenced when others sign up. There is a set of Guidelines available on the website to help groups plan their ten month course together.

Supplies:

The supplies needed for the art tutorials will be listed every month on the website as part of the tutorial. There won't be anything costly or hard to find. In fact many of the tutorials utilize items you already have on hand, or will find easy and inexpensive to acquire.

Payment:

Full payment secures your enrollment. Payment can be made on the website. Be sure to take advantage of the various discounts that are available if you join with a friend, are part of a group, or participated in 2017!

Scholarships:

We have limited scholarship money available. Email Jane if you would like to contribute to our scholarship fund, or are in need of resources.

Additional Questions?

Email Jane at dunnewoldj@complexcloth.com.