

Imagine the beautiful sounds of a new church organ in Craftsbury

About the New Organ

The Mondri 236 is a versatile musical instrument that offers four distinct and unique sound worlds: baroque, classical, romantic, and symphonic.

Each of the four traditions has 36 specifications of stops, which enable an organist to play the works of the great masters in the particular sound of their actual time frame, thus doing justice to the pieces performed.

The art of organ building is reflected in the beautiful wood cabinetry of the Mondri 236, based on traditional knowledge and craftsmanship.

Based in The Netherlands, the Content Organ Company manufactures digital classical organs for use in churches, conservatories, institutions, and music schools.

Over the decades, Content organs have brought joy and meaning to musicians and listeners alike.

Music is the language of the soul, a universal language that bridges borders and barriers between people of different backgrounds and cultures.

Active music performing is a means to express our deepest feelings and personal emotions—a rich source of inspiration to enhance our daily lives as individuals and as members of a vibrant community.

Music, Faith, and Community

Craftsbury is widely known for its rich musical heritage.

From fiddlers, to folk singers, to chamber players, music is alive and deeply ingrained in the very being of our souls.

Our local churches are musical sanctuaries building community in times of celebration, and in moments of pain and loss.

Alive with music

With its rich range of musical tones, a quality organ stirs our deepest emotions.

The resonating chords can raise our spirits, lift our minds and hearts, and inspire our dreams.

Through technology, organs have evolved tremendously during the past decade.

A small church can now afford to purchase an organ that has the same or even better sound than a traditional pipe organ.

Our Story

In faith, the United Church of Craftsbury voted at its Annual Meeting in January to purchase a beautiful new Mondri 236 organ. The expected arrival date is late spring.

Now we have some joyful work to do to raise $10,000 to match the church's contribution of $10,000 toward the total cost of the organ. We are excited to ask our congregation and community—far and wide—to join in making this dream financially possible.

Will you become part of our story by pledging a gift of support?

Here are a few ways that you can help and participate:

- ♥ Give at church, with cash or check in an envelope marked new organ fund.
