Our Mission

Founded in 2010, the Blythewood Historical Society is a volunteer-driven civic organization dedicated to protecting, nurturing, and supporting the historical, pre-historical, and cultural heritage of Blythewood through preservation, advocacy, and education. Working toward this mission, we promote several objectives and activities.

► We identify, protect, and preserve historical, pre-historical, and cultural sites within the 29016 zip code area.

For instance, we work with the community to promote preservation of old structures, and we develop, promote, and maintain the historical walking tour of Blythewood.

► We advocate historical preservation in the community. We are actively involved in the discovery and display of historical exhibits and artifacts from the community, and in building a collection of historical documents and records—all of which are publicly accessible at our Langford-Nord House for historical and genealogical research. We also organize on-site events to foster awareness of Blythewood history and culture.

► We sponsor educational programs that highlight the people, places, and history of Blythewood. We recently launched a series of Historical Book Events which make known historically significant people and places. We also offer a number of extraordinary programs throughout the year for our members, the public, and students.
