

KATE WATERHOUSE

Kate Waterhouse BCom/BA. Kate has been a trustee of since March 2011. She currently works in change management and business transformation for Auckland Council. Her 25 year business career spans market and employee research, marketing, strategy, management consulting and business change for blue chip organizations in the UK, Asia, Australia and NZ including Colmar Brunton, Telecom NZ, Lloyds Bank, PA Consulting Group, and Deloitte. Kate's clients spanned services sectors in these countries including transport, health, education and telecommunications. She brings a deep understanding of change, effective governance and how projects mobilise, balanced with longstanding knowledge of and ties to Great Barrier dating from the 1930s. With her sister she owns 6ha at Okiwi where the family is replanting the riparian corridor between the upper valley and the Okiwi estuary as habitat for pateke, kaka, kereru, and other vulnerable species. She is married to the great grandson of a Wairarapa survivor and was privileged to hear kokako song while tramping in Te Paparahi in 1984. She hopes to take her three daughters to hear kokako there again in her lifetime.