

Back at the Start

There's a wind racing through the depths of your soul
Tearing away the debris so old,
And you can't understand your identity has been blown away

Moving through the night you sleep all alone,
Memories like stitches, in dreams they are sewn,
Clothes so worn, underneath you are naked and cold.

Though the walls are made of stone, there's a fire inside,
We gather round the flames like the bugs to the light,
It's comforting to know that we're out of the cold tonight.

Tonight, so where to begin?
We cry, sharing meaning,
If it comes from the heart,
We'll be back at the start again.

Song-lines we walk leading us home,
Tracks undefined feeding our souls,
Hoping to find, a grace that is kind and free
Tonight, so where to begin?

We cry, sharing meaning,
If it comes from the heart,
We'll be back at the start again.

Though the walls are made of stone, there's a fire inside,
We gather round the flames like the bugs to the light,
It's comforting to know that we're out of the cold tonight

Tonight, so where to begin?
We cry, sharing meaning,
If it comes from the heart,
We'll be back at the start again.

Burnished Gold

Burnished gold, burnished gold, eyes like fire, marking my soul.

There's an echo in the canyon, from a time long ago,
Down by the river, where the old stories flowed,
Plants were the medicine, and the animals know,
Signs like a roadmap always showing where to go.

Burnished gold, burnished gold, eyes like fire, marking my soul.
Burnished gold, burnished gold, runs through the valleys, carries me home, burnished gold.

She sits by the water, her raven hair flows,
He sits down beside her with his feathers and his bow,
They ride on the wild horse, across prairies they roam,
Seduced by a great spirit, A connection that grows.

Burnished gold, burnished gold eyes like fire, marking my soul
Burnished gold, burnished gold, runs through the valleys, carries me home, burnished gold.
My burnished gold

Until its Gone

This day is cold, the winter's long,
Fire's turned to ashes but the memories are strong,

The water falls, but it won't numb the pain,
Neglect overgrown, wild flowers roam in the misty rain

She's gone to ground,
Like a seed she'll grow,
Pushing up through the earth and the shadows,
Through the cracks & space, carried with grace,

Up with the wind, over the meadows
Now it feels, all alone,

Sometimes you don't know how good it is until it's gone, until it's gone

Sun is low, nights coming on,
Wild cries in the distance, your animal song,
I can't see you, but I know that you're there,
I wish I got closer, so much I would share

Now it feels, all alone,
Sometimes you don't know how good it is until it's gone

Our back is cold as we face the sun,
Sometimes you don't know how good it is until it's gone
Sometimes you don't know the space it holds until it's gone,
until it's gone

A Horse Called Freedom

Now I'm a warrior
With a painted truth,

But it won't save me, if I can't find you,
I see a black cockatoo cross the sky,

I'm going to move my camp, up a little higher

If there's a horse called freedom out there,
I will hear you call my name
A horse called freedom out there
We will ride away

I taste the goodness in the water,
And feel the warmth from the fire,
My feet touch the earth, the earth touches me, I will retire.

If there's a horse called freedom out there,
I will hear you call my name,
A horse called freedom out there

We will ride away
Over the hills, to the valley of kings,
We will ride away

Must Start Moving

Now I've walked these dusty roads,
From town to town, like a travelling ghost,
I've seen people, I don't know,
And then I met a part of me, I had lost long ago.
And it shines, innocence pours through my mind,

In your eyes, we sit in silence, our souls singing to The night, spirit always knows, with time, it takes us through this life, with you I will go, to where I don't know, I'll just go

The morning comes, and the night goes,
It's a simple life, this dog here he knows,
Setting off, it's unknown what we will find,
But one things for sure there is beauty, I'm not blind
Not blind, though the valleys of contrast we climb,

So high, out here, on the edge, we're starting to Fly, spirit always knows, with time, it takes us through this life, with you I will go, to where I don't know, I'll just go just go

Out here, on the edge, you know we're starting to Fly, spirit always knows, that in time, it'll take me through this life, with you I will go, to where I don't know, somewhere through this night with you I will go, to where I don't know,
I lost my way, got to start over again, we must start moving

Must start moving

Tears for the Road

Standing on the corner of the great unknown,
So much ground travelled, so much more left to go,
Emotional wheels grinding, the sparks and smoke's blinding,
but out here it is clear,
Silver water falls like wine, pouring through an empty mind, so alone.

Got to find a way to ease this heavy load,
That's why he's leaving tears for the road,
leaving tears for the road

Woke up, didn't know what time it was, the day or the year,
Memories were fading from laughter to fear,
Seeing faces crying, in the flames they were dying, somehow he's got to let it all go,

Has to saddle up, take the reigns, move along, start again
Got to find a way to ease this heavy load
That's why he's leaving tears for the road,
Leaving tears for the road

He can't live without you, can't live without you, he must live without you.

Good Feelings

Oh murky waters, you're blocking my vision,
Looking through shadows and I'm wishing,
The scars of the past, won't be my resistance, I'll sharpen my wills blade and kill these old conditions.

Flawed beliefs I carry, are now cast on the fire,
They burn like the sun, lifting me higher,
Way up in the clouds, there can be no limitations,
Cutting the chords that bind, it's a revelation.

Good feelings will guide us to a home,
When everything old has moved along,
Good feelings will guide us to a home.

So you're out of the gutter, warm meals on the table,
So many are helping if you're willing and able,
There's a sign on the wall, & it's starting to crumble,
Foundations are shaking, get out of the rubble.

Good feelings will guide us to a home,
When everything old has moved along,
Good feelings will guide us to a home.

Sometimes you know you just got to feel this space alone,
Out here in the wilderness it's so strong,
Temptation she follows behind, lurks in your shadow,
So seek the devils embrace before you can let her go

Good feelings will guide us to a home,
When everything old has moved along,
Good feelings will guide us to a home.

Dark clouds parting, blue sky in front of me
Arms wide open know, you know that you're free
You're free.

Fire Bird

Hear me, help me, mend these broken feathers please,
I don't want to feel this way.

Firebird, everything's changing, just like you said that it would,
Firebird, I hope that I will see you again.

These places, your taking me,
over the dark sea,
In this dreaming, we're sailing free

Firebird, everything's changing, just like you said that it would,
Firebird, I hope that I will see you again

I think it's the time, I'm ready, a little unsteady for the climb,
I hope that I will see you again, I hope that I will see you, I know that I will see you again.

Firebird, everything's changing, just like you said that it would,
Firebird, I hope that I will see you again
Firebird, up the hills, lighting the darkest of worlds,
Firebird, I know that I will see you again

So We Can See

Dreams can be made and dreams can be held
But they shatter like anything else,
When the pressure builds, we crack like thunder.

Moving along like trains in the night,
With rattles and aches and there's splinters of light,
Nowhere to go, cause we're already here.

So now where do we go, where do we go when we don't really know,
Light candle so you can show me.

Swimming along in these oceans of time,
Coming up for breath please bring me some wine,
Play me a song, play me some life.

So now where do we go, where do we go when we don't really know,
Light candle so you can show me,
Oh now we can be free, up with the stars and the chemistry,

Strip us of the dark so we can see,
Where do we go, where do we go when we don't really know,
Strip us of the dark so we can see

Light a candle so you can show me
You can show me

In the End

Walking down the road, it's been a long time since I left home, warm breeze kissing my forehead.

Left the phone back at the station,
So much time for contemplation,
Under this tree, I'll make my bed.

Sick and tired of a screen generation,
Facebook's fading, there's a new way of relating,
Taking it slow, got no place left to go
Only have to find ourselves, in the end.

Further down the road,
There's a river made for swimming,
It wraps itself around me like a friend,

Somewhere back at that station, I can't hear, that phone's still ringing,
I don't care my soul is singing, till the end

Only have to find ourselves in the end
Under this tree is a fine place for me,
Going to rest my weary head

Only have to find ourselves in the end

We have to be wild heart,
Like we were back at the start
Only have to find ourselves in the end

Under this tree is a fine place for me,
Going to rest my weary head
Only have to find ourselves in the end

In the end
