

Museums and Collections

Peter Martingell

Inspiration for the Game: To be honest I just take the first tangent from the given word and run with it encountering what I encounter, the game idea came from collections and museums taken fairly literally - a collection wanting to see how the world has changed, hence escaping their 'prison' of sorts.

Programs used: Unity