Adventure awaits you at the Junior Education area at the Tucson Gem and Mineral Show®.

This cooperative effort between the Tucson Gem & Mineral Society and the Society of Earth Science Students from the U. of A. provides a fun and educational experience for young people, and will help them really “dig” science! In the Junior Education area, kids go through a maze of educational experiments and learn from working with the Earth Science students. Walk the maze, go on a mineral “treasure hunt” and take home a variety of clearly identified specimens to remind them of this unique journey into the realm of science and education.
