Dear Ms. Corcoran,

Thank you so much for the lovely flowers you sent to the Open House Sara Helbard had here, yesterday.

It's such a lovely idea (more than just clever marketing), it's so warm and cozy, and, I have to say, — for the seller, as painless as possible.

Selling a house you've lived in for thirty years is a very emotional experience, and, I have to say, dealing with Sara Helbard is making it a pleasure. She is wonderful, I loved her on sight, she is ethical and smart, I trust her implicitly, I can't imagine what this would be like without her.

So, thank you for the flowers, thank you for Sara, the Open House was lovely and the Corcoran Group is a very "class act" indeed.

Sincerely,

Marta Orbach
