Chris Lloyd is an Australian concert pianist, currently residing in London, UK. He has a Master of Music from the Royal Academy of Music, London, and since graduating has performed over eighty concerts in three continents and six countries, as well as having given several masterclasses at the University of Cambridge.

He is the founder of Crossmodalism - an international multi-disciplinary movement based on the intersection of, and collaboration between, art, science, and cutting edge technology.

Aside from performance, he runs a Management Company, and is a curator, artist and event manager, speaker, and author working with international arts, literature, technology, and music festivals.

Chris Lloyd has crafted a career based on entrepreneurial enterprise, with a focus on discovering new performance techniques and innovation within the industry. As an independent artist, he has developed a niche outside of the typical route; eschewing the competition, recording, management, and award industries in favour of following creative desires based in independent thought.

See bottom page for a full list of venues and countries Lloyd has performed in over the past two years.
