

When It Hurts Too Much

Words and Music by Pamela McNeill

When you're going under when the world is weighing you down If you're taking cover when all hope hits the ground
When you're crying silent if your teardrops fall and burn out And all those things inside you are so hard to talk about, yeah

(Chorus)

I wanna be your friend when it hurts too much Someone who understands – someone you can trust Help you recover your night when another stolen day brings you down

When your faith's been shaken and you're facing your darkest night If you're close to breaking from holding on so tight When the clouds burst open if the rain pours out as you are Falling in slow motion and drowning in your heart, (I'm gonna be there...)

(Chorus Repeat)

I'll be there 'til the end when it hurts too much Come on and take my hand – something you can touch Help you recover your heart through another when it all comes down

When it hurts too much
I will be there Oh, when it hurts too much Yeah, I'm gonna be there Oh, I will be there...

And when you're goin' under
And when you're falling down
And when your heart is breaking, baby I'm gonna be around
And when the night surrounds you
When all hope hits the ground
Help you recover your heart through another

If you need me now - here I am, here I am, here I am...
