

Sad Song

Words and Music by Pamela McNeill

I'm searching for you
I'm hoping that there's something more
I want to be found
Sometimes I think you reach me
But then I turn around

I'm close to the truth
But I'm fighting with the great unknown
I don't know what you'd need -I
Got nothing left to give you
Nothing left to bring

'Cept a sad song
It's a sad song
Just a sad song that I sing
Just a sad song for the one who is everything

I'm aching for you
I'm watching for your miracle
I'm still empty and broken
I don't know where I'm going
Even after all this time

But don't give up on me
'Cause I'd never want to let you down
I'm counting the days 'til
I'm walking in your footsteps
And following your lead

And I wonder
How I wonder
Yeah I wonder, endlessly
Yeah I wonder if you're standing next to me

One night in a dream
You stood beside the moonlit waves
You looked up at me
And in that quiet moment
I wanted to believe

So I'm searching for you
But I'm fighting with the mystery

I don't know why you'd want me
I got nothing left to give you
I got nothing left to bring

Except a sad song
Just a sad song
It's a sad song that I sing
It's just a sad song for the one who is everything
Oh...
It's just a sad song that I sing
Such a sad song for the one who is everything
