

On Fire

(Written by Pamela McNeill)

Save me from myself, I need you to come around and rock my little world
I'm shaking with a new desire.

If I put on that dress you like so much
Would you take me out around town?
I could dance a hundred hours.

(Chorus)

Because I need to feel that I'm still alive and I need something to fill this ache inside
So baby, can you set my world on fire?

Help me find a way to let go,
sometimes I don't want to be strong,
and being good only makes me tired.

Drive me through the open back-roads,
let's not go home until the sun comes up.
Make it last a few more hours.

(Chorus repeat)

Save me from myself, I need you
to come around and rock my little world
I'm shaking with a new desire.

If I take off that dress you like so much would you lay beside me on the couch?
Come on, baby, set my world on fire...
