

The World Beyond

(Written by Pamela McNeill)

Roy Orbison is looking down and smiling, illuminating beacons in the sky.
And all you have to know is that there's something...
It doesn't matter who or how or why.

(Chorus)

So carry on...
all you quiet dreamers, carry on,
you misbehaving sinners, have fun
'cause the burned-out disbelievers got it wrong
'bout the world beyond.

Elvis Presley knows that we are coming.
He set the table and he chose the wine.
You don't need to worry about what to wear.
Whatever you have on will be just fine.

(Chorus repeat)

Janis Joplin's got herself a new gig.
She teaches angels how to sing the blues.
And you should see them every Sunday morning.
With Southern Comfort shots, in black suede boots...
So carry on...
all you quiet dreamers, carry on misbehaving sinners, have fun (but hurry up)
'cause the burned-out disbelievers got it wrong
so all you quiet dreamers carry on anyone who feels they don't belong raise your hand and listen to my song
'cause the burned- out disbelivers
whoa they got it wrong 'bout the world beyond!
