

Thank You For Breaking My Heart

Words and music by Pamela McNeill

I flew into London on a pair of broken wings
But I knew I had to lose you
So I did the only thing that I could

And I spent some years addicted
To the paralyzing rain
To the pain that kept me going
Like a drug that I could not turn away

(Chorus)

As I was
Coming down the mountain
With an arrow inside
And all the world between us
So you could not see my cry
I saw the ocean burning bright through the dark
And I said...Thank you for breaking my heart

Well I can't blame you for going
And it was hard on you, too
But I miss our conversations
And the way that they always got me through

And I love you like no other
Even now that you're gone
But I'd really like to thank you
For this roller-coaster ride that I've been on

(Chorus)

As I was
Coming down the mountain
With an arrow inside
And all the world between us
So you could not see my cry
I found my one true love
Right there in the dark...so
And I said...Thank you for breaking my heart
