

One Night in the Middle of the World

Words and Music by Pamela McNeill

Five in the mornin'
I can swear you're lying next to me
Oh but, I'm just seeing things
Reflections from my midnight dreams

Change my lovers
I can change my life
But you still won't go away from me

'Cuz I remember
One night in the middle of the world
The kind of night that there should never be
One night in the middle of the world
There couldn't be a sweeter memory

I'm getting nowhere
'Cuz staying awake won't bring you back to me
So many hours
Of wondering why you had to leave

Change my lovers
I can change my life
But you still won't go away from me

'Cuz I keep remembering
One night in the middle of the world
The kind of night that there should never be
One night in the middle of the world
There couldn't be a sweeter memory

I'm wide awake now
It's no use fighting with my stubborn soul
Out of all my questions
There's just one thing I got to know
I said I got to know

If I can change my lovers
And I can change my life
Why can't I get you off my mind?

I keep remembering...
