

You'll Be Sorry

Words and Music by Pamela McNeill

I'm heading out on the next plane
I'm gonna find a place that will help me forget about it
You know it's always hard to let go
And I don't know whether I will be strong enough but

I won't be wasting my life
You hurt me too many times
You said you'd be true
And I believed you
Taken in by the tears of an operator

(Chorus)
You'll be sorry someday, when it's too late, I know
You'll be sorry someday, and I can't wait
No, no, no, I won't miss you baby
And by that time – don't you know
You'll be sorry that you're not mine

You say you don't know
All the things that I did for you, like
I held your head when you threw-up in the bathtub
After too many gin and tonics

What makes you think I'll lay down
And just let you string me along
You said you'd be true
And I believed you
Taken in by the tears of an ordinary man

(Chorus)

I did everything I could to try and help you stay
I even got down on my knees and I prayed

I won't be wasting my life
You hurt me time after time
You said you'd be true
And I believed you
I was taken in by the tears of a baby

(Chorus)
