Join Our Effort To Protect Sea Turtles Around The World

Six of seven species of sea turtles are either threatened or endangered but there are many ways to help turn the tide. We offer corporate partners unique and effective ways to provide concrete benefits to wildlife and coastal communities while supporting marketing and sustainability efforts.

Our mission is to connect people with sea turtles in meaningful, personal and, memorable ways. We help the sea turtle community connect, grow, and thrive by supporting community-based conservation efforts. Our programs provide funding, resources, and tools to protect endangered sea turtle species in the Global South.

Our Programs:
- Billion Baby Turtles provides support for important turtle nesting beaches.
- Our Sea Turtles & Plastic campaign works to get plastic out of sea turtle habitats.
- Too Rare To Wear is a campaign working to end the demand for turtleshell products.
- Our Conservation Trips provide volunteer and financial support for conservation efforts.
- We promote equity in the sea turtle community through our Sea Turtle Inclusivity Fund.
- We coordinate the Sea Turtle Week annual celebration each June.

Benefits of a SEE Turtles Partnership

Consumer Friendly & Transparent:
Our programs have concrete impacts for each program including 10 cents for every hatchling saved, 50 cents for every lb of plastic cleaned, and more.

Large Reach:
For a small organization, we have a large and dedicated audience that includes more than 200,000 followers on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and email and our SEE Turtles website averages more than 40,000 unique visitors per month.

See our full reach here.

Eye-Catching:
We have high quality photos, video, and logos available for use by partners to help promote the partnership.

Leadership:
SEE Turtles has been a leader in sea turtle conservation since 2008. We have generated more than $1 million for turtle conservation and communities. Our work has benefitted more than 60 important nesting beaches protected by 50+ organizations in 20 countries across the world. For these efforts, we won the Changemakers Award from the World Travel & Tourism Council.

True partnership:
We don’t just ask for a check and put your name on our supporters page; we actively seek out ways to benefit both organizations. See our benefits and case study sections for how we help promote sponsors.
One of the top threats to sea turtles is consumption of their eggs. To protect turtle nesting beaches, there are hundreds of small organizations working on small budgets with little access to grants from the small number of donors who support this kind of work. But there is hope, lots of it!

We launched Billion Baby Turtles in 2013 to fund community-based organizations to pay local staff to patrol the beaches and move the eggs to safe places, away from poachers, to be released when born. We raise this support through an innovative fundraising program that combines individual donations, school fundraisers, income from turtle conservation tours, and partnerships with environmentally responsible businesses.

A billion is a very big number. We will ever reach it? Who knows, but we feel that an ambitious goal is important and that the title will help to draw more attention--it already is! We do know that we can save millions of hatchlings per year and grow that number every year.

We have already saved more than 9 million hatchlings and your brand can save a hatchling for just 10 cents on average. We hope you can join us in this effort. Contact us today to start the conversation.

If there is a poster species for the worldwide epidemic of plastic pollution, it's sea turtles. The mothers swim through islands of plastic on their migrations and crawl through plastic to find their spots to nest on beaches. SEE Turtles believes the long-term solution is ending single use plastic. But even if all plastic production was to stop today, millions of tons would still be floating in the ocean, impacting sea turtles, other ocean wildlife, and humans.

We advocate for reducing plastic use while searching for ways to help get this waste out of sea turtle habitat, in ways that support conservation efforts and local communities and reusing this waste into useful products.

Our Plastic Campaign:

- Works with conservation organizations around the world to clean up plastic in sea turtle habitats.
- Supports new and expanded upcycling efforts that benefit conservation & reduces waste.
- Advocates for less plastic use. We encourage people to reduce plastic at home while advocating for governments and businesses to take strong actions to reduce the creation of plastic in the first place.
Sea Turtles & Plastic Sponsorship Opportunities

- Our Plastic Campaign:
  We have several projects run by our partners around the world to turn the trash washing up on nesting beaches into useful products that support local communities. These include upcycling with Precious Plastic machines, recycling plastic bags into crocheted handbags, and other efforts.

These projects cost US $3,000 - $10,000 and sponsors can cover the full project cost or partner with us on a matching campaign to engage our community.

- Cause Marketing
  Donate a fixed amount or percentage of a product cost to this campaign to show your customers you are doing something about the plastic crisis. This is a great option for plastic alternatives or upcycled or ocean plastic products.

50 cents cleans up 1 lb of plastic. We provide regular updates from the field including photos and videos and amounts of plastic cleaned.
Sea Turtle Week is a unique celebration of these animals and the people who work to support them.

Sodastream

For Earth Day 2022, Sodastream partnered with SEE Turtles to save baby sea turtles, with parts of the proceeds from every Sodastream machine sold during the month of April going to save one baby sea turtle.

Sodastream is the first 1 million hatchling Billion Baby Turtles sponsor. Their donation helped save sea turtles at 20 beaches in 16 countries around the world. The sponsorship included a commercial with TV star David Hasselhof and an augmented reality game where you could release your own baby sea turtle.
Sponsor Profiles

Nature’s Path / EnviroKidz:

Nature’s Path is one of the largest organic food companies in North America. Through their EnviroKidz brand, they donate 1% of profits to environmental organizations working to save endangered species.

They have supported SEE Turtles’ work since 2008, helping to save tens of thousands of hatchlings. Their donations have launched and expanded our educational program and they are a lead sponsor of Billion Baby Turtles and support our School Fundraiser Contest. Their Turtle Splash Cereal helps save a baby turtle with every box sold.
Endangered Species Chocolate:

Endangered Species Chocolate is one of the largest natural chocolate companies in the US. SEE Turtles and Endangered Species Chocolate had a three year partnership as part of their 10% Promise program. Our project split ten percent of profits with two other organizations and we are featured on their Sea Turtle Bar.

Our partnership also included a grant contest to give away $5,000 in donations to wildlife conservation and lead sponsorship of Billion Baby Turtles and our School Fundraising Contest.

Testimonial:

"You’d be hard-pressed to find a more dedicated and effective conservation group as SEE Turtles."
Partner Guidelines

SEE Turtles works with businesses who lead their industries in environmental practices.

We partner with companies that:

• Do not have direct impacts on sea turtles and other ocean life by generating large amounts of plastic waste or pollution, catching sea turtles in fishing gear, developing coastal habitats in an unsustainable way, significantly contributing to global warming, or keeping wild ocean animals in captivity that should not be captive.

• Have a strong record of reducing their environmental impact including energy usage, waste production, and habitat degradation and benefit the communities and employees that the company depends on.

• Have a customer base who support wild and healthy oceans and will promote our work to their customers.

• Promote racial and social justice in the company and in the community.

• Can commit to a minimum annual donation of at least $250 (or more, depending on level chosen) to offset costs for partnership set up and promotion.
Why Do We Ask For A Deposit?

We know this can be an unusual request so we wanted to give a bit of explanation. SEE Turtles requests deposits from sponsors for a few reasons. First, it takes time for our staff to set up sponsorships, including adding links and logos to our website, promoting on social media, and processing the paperwork. We have had situations in the past where sponsors committed to donating but then did not follow through with the donation, or only donated a small amount which was not enough to cover staff time. The deposit, which is based on future donations and not an additional fee, helps to ensure that we cover the time involved and offers true benefits to our programs.

Second, we have invested years of hard work and investment to build a strong reputation and branding. When a sponsor uses our brand name, logos, and photos in marketing products that promote donations, we need to ensure that those claims are backed up with actual funds and not just a promise of funds.

Exceptions to our deposit requirement:
In limited cases, we may be able to offer a waiver of the deposit for brands with strong histories of partnerships with nonprofits or those with a history of supporting our work. For sponsors who donate beyond the initial deposit amount, the deposits are waived in future agreements.
Awards & Recognition

SEE Turtles has been recognized by leading organizations and charity watchdogs:
About Us

SEE Turtles was launched in 2008 as the world’s first effort to protect sea turtles through ecotourism. Since then, we have expanded to include our Billion Baby Turtles, Too Rare To Wear, Sea Turtles & Plastic, and Sea Turtle Week programs.

To date, we have brought more than 1,000 people to visit turtle projects, generated more than US $1 million for turtle conservation and local communities, saved more than 9 million turtle hatchlings at more than 60 nesting beaches around the world, and reached more than 10,000 students with our educational programs.

SEE Turtles is an independent 501c3 nonprofit organization based in Portland, Oregon.
