OBJECTIVES AND GOVERNING STATEMENTS

The charitable company brings together expert non-governmental organisations (NGOs), consultants, academics and individuals committed to working on gender, development and women's rights issues.

Objects

The objects of the charity, as set out in its governing document, are to relieve poverty among women and girls and to promote and protect their health (whether mental, physical, sexual or emotional) by any means the trustees in their absolute discretion choose.

Vision and Mission

Our vision is of a world where social justice and gender equality prevail and where all women and girls are able to realise their rights, free from discrimination. Our mission is to relieve poverty and promote well being by ensuring that international development policy and practice promotes gender equality and women and girls' rights. Our role is to improve the impact that UK development and donor organisations have on the lives of women and girls in developing countries by ensuring that their international development work promotes gender equality and women and girls' rights.

Strategic aims

The strategic aims (each of equal importance) of the charity are:

1. To create and maintain a strong, effective and inclusive network.
2. To promote alternatives and solutions to current agendas and problems in women's rights and gender equality and development.
3. To increase the capacity of members to deliver gender equality and women's rights.
4. To strengthen the Government's commitment, policy and practice on women's rights and gender equality in its international work.
5. To generate, collate and disseminate a strong evidence-based knowledge base on women's rights and gender equality and development.

Activity planning and public benefit

GADN's activities, which are described below, have been designed to deliver benefits in accordance with these strategic aims.

Our activities have been reviewed through the year, referring to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit so as to ensure that our work complies with these requirements.

ACTIVITIES, ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

The GADN is unique in the way it brings together large and small NGOs with individuals and consultants and over the past 30 years, GADN has become a hub that catalyses its members' efforts on gender and development. In 2014-15, GADN was comprised of 57 NGOs ranging from small women's rights lobby groups to large international development organisations, as well as individual consultants, students and academics. By drawing on our diverse and knowledgeable membership as well as receiving benefits in kind from a variety of donors, GADN is able to achieve a lot on modest resources.

Since its foundation in 1985, GADN has grown exponentially both in size and in influence. An important part of this growth has been the sustained core funding given to us by member organisations such as ActionAid UK, Christian Aid, Oxfam GB and Plan UK. In 2014-2015 we also received a core funding grant from the GW Cadbury Trust. Thanks to these contributions, in 2014-15 we were able to implement a great range of activities.

Highlights of 2014-2015 for GADN included:

- Setting an agenda for the future: In February we released the report 'Turning Promises into Progress: Gender equality and rights for women and girls - lessons learnt and actions needed'. Two major anniversaries this year with Beijing+20 and the fifteenth anniversary of UNSCR 1325 on Women, Peace and Security allowed an opportunity for reflection, while the conclusion of post-2015 negotiations provided an opportunity for action. The report therefore aims to identify lessons learnt, and recommendations for the future. For the first time we worked jointly with Gender Action for Peace and Security (GAPS UK), the UK SRHR network and all our GADN working groups. This exciting collaboration enabled us to explore eight different subject areas in detail, and then bring together overall conclusions.

A Parliamentary launch event was hosted by the UN All Party Parliamentary Group in March ahead of International Women's Day (IWD), and the report was profiled in IWD campaigns and communications from Bond, The World Bank, Oxfam and Action/2015.

- Influencing the post-2015 framework: As the post-2015 process has moved forward this year, GADN has continued to play an active and effective role in promoting the need for gender equality and women's rights to be central to the new framework through engagement with the UK Department for International Development (DFID), the UN and other donors, as well as the wider sector.

Throughout the year the post-2015 working group has shared strategy and information ensuring our impact is increased. In June, we released a briefing paper 'Unpaid care: A priority for the post-2015 development goals and beyond' which outlined the importance of including a target on unpaid care in the framework. GADN also prepared a briefing on unpaid care for the international Post-2015 Women's Coalition. In September we responded in full to the Open Working Group proposals in the paper 'Gender equality and women's rights at the UN General Assembly post-2015 discussion' and have recently released our latest 'Summary of positions on negotiations for the post-2015 framework' which includes recommendations on means of implementation and accountability.

In June, GADN was invited to host a side event at the Global Summit to End Sexual Violence in Conflict on the importance of using the post-2015 framework to eliminate violence against women and girls. The event included a speech by the Rt. Hon. Justine Greening, Secretary of State for International Development.

- Engaging with DFID: Throughout the year, GADN has liaised with DFID staff to discuss areas of key priority to members such as the department's strategic framework on girls and women, political participation, violence against women and girls (VAWG), post-2015 and economic empowerment. This dialogue has been convened through meetings between GADN members and DFID.

In June we facilitated a members meeting on the Girl Summit which focused on child, early and forced marriage and female genital mutilation. Members were able to hear from DFID on the plans and aims of the Summit, and to discuss policy responses. We also released a briefing on the Summit to inform members.

- Inputting into the CSW process: GADN supported over twenty members who attended the 59th session of the Commission of the Status of Women (CSW) which focused on the 20th anniversary of the Beijing Platform for Action and review. In November, we were delighted to be represented on a panel of speakers looking at global challenges to gender equality at the Government Equalities Office's (GEO) Annual National Consultation with Women meeting. Throughout the year we have facilitated dialogue between members and DFID and the GEO to input into preparations for Beijing+20, and commented on the draft political declaration eventually approved by governments at CSW.
- Supporting campaigns on gender equality and women's rights: GADN produced two tools: 'Ten steps towards integrating gender equality into campaigns' and 'Gender and Campaigning Training Pack' to support those who want to improve the effectiveness of their gender equality campaigns or to mainstream gender into existing campaigns.
- Developing understanding within the sector: Over the year we also started to develop positions on 'engaging with men and boys' to promote gender equality and on possible alternatives to current development models. Both of these areas of work will be developed over the next year.
- Our quarterly member's meetings have been used to discuss key topics related to our member's priorities and provide space for networking and exchange of ideas. Topics this year have included: The Girl Summit; A Theory of Change for Gender Equality and post-2015 and preparing for CSW.

- The network also coordinated working groups around thematic areas to enable our members to share best practice and work on joint activities together. Our working groups in 2014-15 were:
 - Violence against Women and Girls
 - Women's Economic Justice
 - Gender Mainstreaming
 - Girl's Education in International Development
 - Humanitarian
 - Women's Participation and Leadership

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

The Gender and Development Network is a company limited by guarantee, and a registered charity (with effect from 8 February 2011) and is governed by its Memorandum and Articles of Association as amended 4 February 2011.

Recruitment and appointment of new trustees

Following the resignation of Rachel Carter on the 1st November 2014, one new Trustee was appointed on the 1st November 2014; Daphne Jayasinghe.

Volunteers

During the year GADN was fortunate to have the support of two Research and Communications volunteers: Mayeesha Jamil and Rebecca Kelley. As ever, their work has been a vital backbone to the continuation of the network.

Risk management

The Trustees note their duty to identify and review the risks to which the charity is exposed and to ensure appropriate controls are in place to provide reasonable assurance against fraud and error.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Result for the year

The Board of Trustees reports an excess of income over expenditure of £617 which will be carried forward for use in 2015-16.

Reserves

The accounts show a total carried forward of £63,267. This includes restricted funds of £9,685, from the GW Cadbury Grant. This will be spent on operating costs in 2015-16, excluding the Director's fees.

£36,968 of the unrestricted reserves has been designated to a contingency reserve. The Trustees have agreed that the balance of the unrestricted funds, £16,614, can be used in 2015-2016 for operating costs. Funds have been allocated for secretariat costs, briefings and reports and to implement our priority research areas.

Reserves policy

The charity's reserves policy is as follows:

GADN is a small organisation dependent on few sources of income; the Trustees therefore decided to set a high level of core reserves. Finances are carefully managed through budgeting and monitoring processes, and setting a reserve policy is part of our financial management strategy. The Board monitors the level of reserves held throughout the year and will review this policy and the basis for the level of reserves needed annually.

GADN's reserves policy has the following aims:

- To cover falls in expected income
- To cover unexpected core operating costs, and costs in the event of closure
- To provide a cushion for cashflow management

The Board has committed to maintaining a contingency reserve enough to cover six months core running costs. That translates into £36,968, and the existing designated funds were topped up to meet that target in this financial year.

GADN will strive to balance the needs for current expenditure with the need for a reserve. Reserves will only be expended in pursuit of the above aims and as a result of a decision by the Board.

Statement of Trustee responsibilities

Company law requires the Trustees (who are also the directors of GADN for the purposes of company law) to prepare the financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the surplus or deficit of the charitable company for that period.

In preparing those financial statements. The directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in operation

The directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking responsible steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

This report has been delivered in accordance with the provisions in part 15 of the Companies Act 2006 applicable to companies subject to the small companies' regime.

Independent Examiner's Report to the Members of the GAD Network

Report to the members of GAD Network on the accounts for the year ended 31 March 2015 set out on pages 9 to 13.

Respective responsibilities of the trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees (who are also the directors of the company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under section 144 (2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act)) and that an independent examination is needed.

Having satisfied myself that the charity is not subject to audit under company law and is eligible for an independent examination. It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts (under section 145 of the 2011 Act),
- to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Act),
- and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My work was conducted in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commissioners. My procedures consisted of comparing the accounts with the accounting records kept by the charitable company, and making such limited enquiries of the officers of the charitable company as I considered necessary for the purposes of this report. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent Examiner's statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention

- 1 which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect, the requirements to keep accounting records in accordance with section 386 of the Companies Act 2006;
to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records, comply with the accounting requirements of section 396 of the Companies Act 2006 and with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities.
have not been met; or
- 2 to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
