The Guidelines & FAQs: http://www.allarvickfund.org/guidelines/

The online application is 5 pages, a page per section. We suggest reviewing it first and have your answers ready before filling it out. When using the online application, hovering a mouse over certain fields, will prompt additional instruction if further clarification is provided. On this document, further instruction is italicized. Word limits are tracked within the online application.

PLEASE NOTE: In order to continue to other pages of the online application, you must:
1). Check the box indicating you agree to the terms about sharing your media.
2). Fill in your first and last name of the "Applicant/Project Manager" section.
3). Choose one applicant category.

Incomplete submitted applications will automatically be disqualified.
Email info@allarvickfund.org with any questions.

Below are the required information and questions you’ll need to have ready in order to submit an online ALCF grant application.

Section I: Applicant Information
By checking the box below, you understand that if awarded an ALCF grant, a copy of your transferred media will be uploaded onto the Internet Archive (archive.org), where it will be available for study and enjoyment by the general public. You also agree to work collaboratively with the fund to screen selected clips from your collection at public events. Since the fund acts as a digital archive it retains a copy of all grantee media for the purposes of public programming and promotion. This must be agreed to in order to submit this application. You will be asked to check this box again at the end of the application form.

*ALCF realizes some media may not be suitable for public consumption or might be considered too personal to share with a wider audience. If you are applying to conserve and digitally capture an entire collection that might contain a couple clips that fall under one of these categories, the fund is willing to omit those clips from its digital archive, the Internet Archive and public programming. If most of a collection falls under one of these categories, it is probably not a good fit for ALCF’S grant program.

Yes, I understand and agree to the above.

Section 5: Statement

1). Explain how you or your organization will maintain your original and digital assets if awarded a ALCF grant. (within 300 words) The fund doesn’t require the original materials be stored at a professional archive. It does aim to educate and promote a greater understanding of analog and digital media conservation and management best practices. Grantees will be given reference material and a guide on basic care and maintenance. Please indicate how you will...
2). Provide a description of the subjects and contents of the recorded media: (within 300 words) For example: a graduation ceremony, community theater performance, town's public event, holiday gathering, etc. Include intent of documentation, historic or cultural or educational value of work. Include any known dates or time periods. If unsure, explain why you want this material conserved and transferred - part of a collection which includes important material - if so, what is in the rest of the collection? If you are applying as an individual, maybe you inherited the media but don't know what's recorded on it. Please indicate so.

3). Explain the background of the key people and/or places and/or events in the recorded media. And/or key people who were involved in the recording of the media, to the best of your knowledge: (within 300 words) If you don't know, please indicate so.

4). Describe why your media is important to your personal legacy and/or American culture at large: (within 300 words) If you are an organization, please indicate why the media is of value to your organization's collection and audience, and American culture at large.

5). Describe how you will share the digital transfers with family, friends and community, should you receive an ALCF grant: (within 300 words) If you are an organization, please indicate how you will incorporate these materials into your public/community programming. (See Content Sharing page for ideas).

6). Describe your relationship to the location or people recorded in the media and what you feel are special elements depicted or represented: (within 300 words) If you are an organization, please indicate the organization's connection to the media and its content.

Attach a JPEG photo. Keep each file under 4 or 5 Megabytes in size if possible. (optional) We encourage applicants to upload up to 5 photographs of their media and/or documents that show media condition, formats, labels or supportive documents that further contextualize the media content. If photographing media, the fund recommends laying film reels and tapes out on the floor or table to show formats, any potential decay, or helpful labels. This is not required but does strengthen your application.
