DRUMMER: RYAN VIKEDAL

The transcription is written for a drum set in 4/4 time. It begins with a 5-measure phrase. The notation includes various drum patterns, such as eighth and sixteenth note runs, and dynamic markings like accents (>) and accents with velocity (> V). The transcription is organized into several systems, each containing two staves: a top staff for the snare and tom patterns, and a bottom staff for the bass drum and kick patterns. The patterns are complex, involving many sixteenth and eighth notes, and some systems include a '5' in the top staff, likely indicating a five-measure phrase. The transcription is a detailed representation of the drum part as played by Ryan Vikedal.

HOW YOU REMIND ME - PAGE 2

This musical score is for the guitar part of the song "How You Remind Me" by The Weeknd. It consists of eight staves of music. The notation includes various guitar-specific symbols such as 'x' for muted notes, 'o' for natural harmonics, and '+' for pinch harmonics. The score features a mix of rhythmic patterns, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. The first staff begins with a double bar line and a key signature of one flat. The second staff continues the rhythmic pattern with muted notes. The third staff introduces a natural harmonic on the 5th fret and a pinch harmonic on the 7th fret. The fourth staff features a natural harmonic on the 5th fret and a pinch harmonic on the 7th fret. The fifth staff includes a dynamic marking of 'v' (accent) and a crescendo hairpin. The sixth staff features dynamic markings of '> v' (accent) and '> V' (strong accent). The seventh staff continues the rhythmic pattern with muted notes. The eighth staff concludes the piece with a natural harmonic on the 5th fret and a final rhythmic flourish.
