The venue is located at historic Dundee Lodge in Gaston, Oregon, about one hour west of Portland. Built in 1920 as a private hunting lodge, it is now being lovingly renovated and restored by Hayden and Kya White, who desire to bring the lodge back to life, care for it and share it with the community. It is now available for group gatherings and retreats, community events and house concerts, and occasional weddings.

Wanderfest is all about bonding the people of the Pacific Northwest with everything our region has to offer! The festival is a Great Northwest Production, produced by veteran event administrator, Dina Sayers. She and her 501(c)3, non-profit production company (sponsored by CascadiaNow) have extensive experience in successful festival production. She (along with many others) will be donating their time and energy to ensure the event is a huge success. 80% of ALL TICKET SALES & SPONSORSHIPS will directly benefit the venue and the musicians associated with this event. 20% will support future Great Northwest Productions and offset necessary administrative costs.

Demographics

We know what to expect based on the universal appeal of the music presented and on our previous experience with event production in this area. The festival will attract a diverse demographic, ranging in age from young families to senior citizens. There will be an approximately even number of males and females in attendance.
