

The Gregory Djanikian Scholars Program
Fee Waiver Request

For more information on the Gregory Djanikian Scholars Program, please visit us online here. All emerging writers who have not published full-length collections are eligible (regardless of age, geographic location, or educational status), and Gregory Djanikian Scholars will receive $100 and publication in a future issue of the Adroit Journal.

The entry deadline for the 2017-2018 Gregory Djanikian Scholars Program is December 15, 2017.

To accommodate this while offering free online issues, we have set a non-refundable submission fee of $9. If you require financial assistance, you may submit this fee waiver. Please fill out the below information and return either electronically to editors@theadroitjournal.org with subject line "Fee Waiver Request". If you are not able to electronically send the waiver, please inquire to the above email for our the mailing address. Due to fee waivers' processing time, fee waivers will only be accepted until one week before the deadline (postmarked).

Please include submission(s)—one .doc or .docx file—as attachments to your email. If sending fee waiver via post mail, please send a separate email from the above inquiry with subject line "Fee Waiver Request – Post" to editors@theadroitjournal.org with a full catalogue of publication history for enclosed poems.
