United Academics Supports University Staff Union-NEA

United Academics (UA), the faculty union at the University of Vermont, is pleased that UVM staff have voted to move forward towards unionization.

We urge all eligible staff to support University Staff Union-NEA in the upcoming election on November 13th and 14th. USU-NEA, with crucial organizational support from the National Education Association (NEA), will be a strong advocate for the staff it represents. We know unionization of the faculty has made UVM a better place: better salaries, more job security, and a more substantial voice in decision-making on the campus. UA pledges its support to help the University Staff Union-NEA achieve these same goals.
