

Volunteer Lawyers Program >>The Road Ahead

2007 Report to the Community

The VLP is a joint program of Southern Arizona Legal Aid and the Pima County Bar Association

Making Goals - Marking Progress

Dear Friends:

Last year, the VLP celebrated its 25th anniversary. Together, we have climbed a mountain, and from our vantage point we can see the path we have traveled, as well as the road ahead. Because we recognize the hard work that has taken us this far and because we are ready for the next step, the view brings us joy.

The road ahead holds many adventures—both the kind of adventures that make us reach for stress balls and the kind of adventures that are simply a ball. We take the next steps together, confident in the strength of our volunteers and their never-ending commitment to helping those in need. We welcome challenges and, as our history has shown us, that's a good thing, because there will be many! It is the enthusiasm and perseverance of our volunteers that will guide us along the road ahead.

We continue to be humbled by the giving spirit of Arizona's legal community. You give of your time and talents and in doing so, you bring hope and justice to our world. We look forward to taking the next step with you on the road ahead.

Best wishes and many thanks from your friends at the VLP,

Michele & Socorro

Clients Served

Our goals are clear: This year the VLP will work with more than 1200 volunteer attorneys to provide services to an estimated 3,323 clients and their families. In fact, since its establishment, the VLP has assisted more than 25,399 clients – all of whom faced legal issues and who benefited from VLP counsel and the generosity of our volunteers.

Participating Attorneys

Based in Tucson, the VLP serves clients with civil legal problems in Apache, Cochise, Gila, Graham, Greenlee, Navajo, Pima, Pinal, and Santa Cruz Counties. An estimated 10% of the program's volunteer attorneys and 20% of its clients come from the rural parts of our service area. Plans for 2008 include increased services to clients in these remote areas as well as volunteer opportunities for attorneys who practice in these counties.

Our Service Area

Merging Talent

In the fall of 1999, SALA's VLP and the University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law formed a partnership, VLP Advocates, to help deliver legal services to those Pima County residents most in need of civil legal help. Under the supervision of volunteer attorneys, volunteer students help deliver free legal services. The VLP believes that students will assist one-third of all of the clients seen by the VLP in 2007. This translates into a direct benefit to 1,200 low-income clients annually in the areas of family law, consumer protection and probate law.

Student feedback shows that as a result of their positive volunteer experience, they are more likely to volunteer with the VLP as an attorney. This exposure of future attorneys to the VLP is essential to meet Pima County's continuing need for free legal services. In essence, the VLP Advocates "grow" into volunteer attorneys, aware of the need, and ready to serve the clients of the VLP.

As a law student, volunteering with VLP has been an invaluable experience. I first heard about VLP during orientation my first year. I knew that I wanted hands-on experience during law school and after hearing and seeing their presentation, I immediately knew this was a program that I wanted to be a part of. I have witnessed how the legal profession can change people's lives with both their legal expertise and also by being respectful and supportive of their clients. By watching the VLP attorneys, I have learned that no matter how successful or busy you become, there is always time to volunteer and help those in need. VLP has also helped me see inside differing areas of law through the four clinics that I have participated in. VLP has increased my enthusiasm and drive to become an attorney and has made me proud of the profession that I am pursuing.

Collin Wedell
Undergraduate,
Pepperdine University

When I chose to work at the VLP this summer, I had only an inkling of what a legal career entailed. I knew that, to some degree, I was interested in the law, but I was virtually clueless as to what that would mean for my life. I entered the summer fully expecting to become disillusioned with the law and be back at square one for my life planning. However, I was instead transfixed by the new world open before me. Working with the VLP has given me an inspiration for my future in law school and as an attorney, for I now have as my role models the most giving, generous, and self-sacrificing attorneys I have ever met. Working for a non-profit organization helps to put things in perspective, and it has been a life-changing experience I will never forget nor disregard. Thank you VLP!
