Introduction

The Montana Public Education Center (MT-PEC) is a coalition of public education advocates (the Montana Association of School Business Officials (MASBO), MEA-MFT, Montana Quality Education Coalition (MQEC), Montana Rural Education Association (MREA), the Montana School Boards Association (MTSBA), and the School Administrators of Montana (SAM) dedicated to providing the public with facts about the GREAT work of Montana’s Public Schools.

For five years now, MT-PEC has been administering a public opinion poll (through Zogby Analytics*) seeking Montana voter’s perspectives on K-12 public education issues. Consistent with previous years polling results, there remains strong support for K-12 public education in Montana.

This publication is intended to inform and educate parents, policymakers, trustees, school staff and the public at large about the GREAT things that are happening in Montana’s Public Schools, the results of the Zogby Poll, the work of the K-12 Vision Group (made up of members from the public education advocates noted above).

Montana’s Public Schools are governed by elected school trustees

Montana’s Public Schools are community owned through elected school boards vested with local “supervision and control” of all publicly-funded K-12 education in Montana.

Montana’s 1,400 elected, volunteer school trustees have high hopes and high expectations for Montana’s 146,000+ public school students.

These trustees have been charged with the power and responsibility to effectively govern Montana’s 821 schools* and enthusiastically engage their local communities to provide an individualized education for each child.

In Montana, 409 school districts* and their school board members are guardians of the public trust and, through their strategies and decisions, they are ultimately accountable to the public and the children they serve.

School trustees are strong advocates for individualized educational excellence of each community’s youth with an undivided loyalty to put the interests of children first.

The responsibilities of school trustees often entail difficult choices, self-sacrifice and exposure to public criticism. However, it also brings a great deal of personal satisfaction and community ownership in finding solutions to challenges and in celebrating student successes.
