about made.

All of the Quartz & Quartz Crystal used in this jewelry I have mined out of the Quartz mines in the Ouachita Mountains in my home state of Arkansas. My hands are the first to touch them since their formation. I put them through several washes before they're ready to be made into jewelry and I am constantly reminded of God's redeeming love and grace for us in this process. My hope is that made jewelry can serve as a reminder of restoration & purpose. From the mine to what is made, your purchase helps to provide a safe environment for hurting women who are seeking recovery through The Restoration Home in Little Rock, Arkansas. You can learn more about our making process and read more about our partnership with The Restoration Home on our website at www.madejr.com.
