In the wake of recent events in Turkey and Syria, teachers and students grapple once again with how to understand, analyze, and respond to unfolding news reports.

EIHR supports teachers’ research for their own understanding as well as constructing plans for student learning. This set of resources includes materials addressing responsible media consumption and sharing, reliable sources of information, and avenues for response that have been undertaken in the face of mass atrocities in the past, such as aid and advocacy.

---

Media Guidelines

On The Media: Breaking News Consumer’s Handbook

News and Information

BBC: Map of Turkey’s Syria Offensive, October 9, 2019

https://ichef.bbci.co.uk/news/624/cpsprodpb/6F32/production/_109166482_iraq_syrria_control_09_10_2019_camps_map-nc.png

The Daily: Is the US Betraying its Kurdish Allies?

The USHMM: Confronting Genocide: Syria

https://www.ushmm.org/confront-genocide/syria
The International Rescue Committee https://www.rescue.org/

MercyCorps
https://www.mercycorps.org/donate/syria

Save The Children

USA for United Nations High Commission on Refugees https://www.unrefugees.org/emergencies/syria/

I Am Syria
www.iamsyria.org

United States Government: How to Contact your Elected Officials https://www.usa.gov/elected-officials

While these resources have been reviewed, they should not be interpreted as an endorsement of any organization or publication by or for EIHR. Please review them carefully with your own classroom, curriculum, and community standards in mind.