BUZZ CO

talent placement alchemy

Hot tech. Fresh design. Potent copy.

Warms the soul like a triple shot of hand-cranked shine!
But it's no fun imbibing alone. And I'm the kind of guy that just can't stop saying hello. So in 1995 I started distilling top shelf talent for every format, time frame and budget imaginable.

I didn't want another people factory. I wanted straight talk. Eye-to-eye emoji. Chuckles loud enough to draw every face out of Facebook. And of course, that uncanny intuition that never does rub off no matter how many life style bloggers you follow – the art of people mixing. You've either got it or you don't.

Enter Tracy, mixologist of mythic proportions. When clients tell what hurts she listens hard – with that spunky sixth sense. Then she mixes up some tripled-distilled talent to concoct their custom remedy.

Twenty years later we still get a bit light-headed every time we pin point the perfect home grown, hand-picked specialist to build, manage, direct, write, code or concept the custom cure for your marketing malaise …

Aching for a freelance contractor?

Just for a week or so, to curate that Power Point prezzi you've been procrastinating on, or design that slick infographic you've been daydreaming of? We harness lighting rod minds from every niche you can think of. Go ahead, try to stump us.

Pining away for a project specialist ?

Maybe for the month before your brands standard guide is due, so you don't squeeze your stress ball into smithereens? We rep creatives and managers who'll be hounding you to stay on top of your own deadline!

Taste testing full time team members?

Our roster of seasoned, tech-savvy, instinct-driven experts will spotlight your team and turn your competitors wheat grass green.

We've got you covered with a menu of services that's longer than your cable guide. And we're itching to stop by and drop it off.

We're continually adding talent, checking timing and stirring things up. You can call to chat any time (our ears are 60% larger than those of average talent placement professionals.)

Once we've got you grinning, check in and let us know how you're savoring your success. One sip at a time or in one fell gulp?
(Please enjoy responsibly.)