The Jellyfish Project (JFP) is announcing an opportunity to become involved with our non-profit organization. The JFP uses live music and a slide presentation in schools to spread awareness of factors contributing to Climate Change and ways in which students can be part of the solution.

The Jellyfish Project’s School Presentation Program is for bands passionate about environmental sustainability and interested in delivering meaningful presentations in schools. A typical presentation begins with a 30-minute high energy music performance that grabs the students’ attention and puts them into a receptive state of mind, serving as a perfect lead into the important environmental messages which follow.

Delivered through a captivating slideshow, the band then presents a 30-minute portrayal of our planet’s environmental crisis and offers ways for students to make a difference. Students are educated on overfishing, plastic pollution and resource extraction, and learn about responsible consumerism, renewable energy, and green career options.

In the last six years the JFP’s school presentations have reached over 100,000 students across Canada and have received great reviews from teachers, students, parents and media.

There are many benefits to getting involved with The Jellyfish Project:

Skill Development, Training, Mentorship | You will learn skills in public speaking, presentation, and environmental education. The JFP will provide the tools to succeed through mentorship while providing presentation content.

Increased Exposure | JFP bands ‘get in the door’ of schools where there are 1000’s of potential fans. You will also be promoted through all the JFP networks: website, social media, press releases and radio interviews.

Enhance Your Image, Reputation - Be the Change | Being recognized as a ‘green band’ by joining the JFP builds interest from people of all ages who support green initiatives. The Jellyfish Project lends credibility to musicians and enhances your reputation and the effectiveness of your activism.

Paid Gigs | The JFP will arrange your school bookings. We make the connections and take care of the details while you get paid to make a difference. And, some schools will let you sell your band merchandise.

Play More Shows | You will have the opportunity to make contacts in the towns where you are presenting and can schedule ahead your own evening gigs to help further your career.

We would be delighted to hear from you and learn about your interest in getting involved with The Jellyfish Project. Please email us at: info@thejellyfishproject.org
