What We’re Thankful For

In gratitude for this table we share, the food we enjoy, the kindness we extend, to neighbor, family, and friend. In gratitude for the lost and lonely, the sorrowful and forgotten, welcomed to this sturdy table. We hold hands in peace and share our community meal in gratitude. Thanksgiving blessings to all from Community Action House.

Empowerment.

Do you believe that you are lovable, important, and valuable?

The answer may seem obvious to some of us. Yet for others it’s a difficult question to answer because we rarely consider how we view ourselves. It’s the hard work in back of that question that we’re confronting head on at Community Action House.

If we really want to end poverty and build prosperity for our neighbors and community, we must empower those in poverty to change how they view themselves, to believe that they are lovable, important, and valuable, and that their lives and futures matter.

We will launch the EPIC Empowerment Institute in 2014. EPIC will work with clients to change their self-perception; to achieve cognitive, emotional, and interpersonal competencies; and to secure long-term jobs.

2014 will be an EPIC year here at Community Action House. Stay tuned...

Patricia Lynn Reilly
Thankfulness

IN OUR CLIENTS’ OWN WORDS

“The soup kitchen is a blessing to the community.”

“One of the best classes I’ve had in a long time. I found a great organization that I love to tell others about!”

“Thank you for your help! Your knowledge helped us in handling a difficult situation and made it so much less stressful.”

“I am so grateful for your food assistance and all the other resources you shared with me today.”

“You have been so helpful and made me feel so comfortable coming in for help. Thank you!”

“I am grateful for this place!”

“Everyone and all things offered has been a wonderful blessing. God bless all at the Community Housing Partnership (CHP).”

“I liked learning new things, meeting new people, and getting hands-on experiences in the Home Maintenance classes. I would definitely recommend this class to others. Thank you.”

“Thank you for taking the time and always being willing to help me with all of the doubts that I had. Without your help and guidance I would not have been able to hang on.”