Lesson Title: E OLA PONO - Living Pono

Lesson Purpose: Students and teachers will:
* Gain a deeper appreciation for the land, sea, and their community
* Find ways they can protect, defend and preserve what is important to them

Materials & Preparation:
* “E Ola Pono” by Kaukahi mp3 song file (www.growingponoschools.com)
* IPod, computer, or other devise to play song
  (Note: if unable to play song, use Vimeo link below to show video with the song.
  “E Ola Pono” is also on Kaukahi’s “Life in These Islands” CD)
* “E Ola Pono” lyrics (See below)
* Ability to play a 10 min. excerpt from video: Life in These Islands, found at:
  http://vimeo.com/18417715

Background Information:
E Ola Pono, to live pono, comes from recognizing how personal actions impact everything, as all is alive and interconnected. The following passage from the book Tales from the Night Rainbow (by Koko Willis and Pali Jae Lee) explains how Hawaiians believe that everything is one:

“The early ones believed that there was one body of life to which we belonged. We had land, sea and sky. They, too, were a part of us. Everything that grew on our land and swam in our ocean we called brother and sister. We were a part of all things and all things were a part of us.” - pg. 19-20, Tales from the Night Rainbow

See the lesson PPT Resource for a diagram representing the interconnectedness of KANAKA (people), ‘ĀINA (land; includes all elements), and ‘AKUA (Spirit).

Steps:
1. Introduce or review the meaning of pono:

Pono is a Hawaiian word commonly rendered as “righteousness”. The word has strong cultural and spiritual connotations of “a state of harmony or balance”.

1 nvs. Goodness, uprightness, morality, moral qualities, correct or proper procedure, excellence, well-being, prosperity, welfare, benefit, behalf, equity, sake, true condition or nature, duty; moral, fitting, proper, righteous, right, upright, just, virtuous, fair, beneficial, successful, in perfect order, accurate, correct, eased, relieved; should, ought, must, necessary.

Source: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pono,

2. Share lyrics for the song “E Ola Pono” and have the class or an individual read the words. Be sure to read the footnotes about why the song was written. Stimulate feedback and discussion from haumāna (students) about the meaning and author’s intention.
3. Have haumāna (students) break into small groups to discuss and answer the following questions:
   * What do we think is important to protect, defend, and preserve in ________________? (Place your community name here.)
   * How can we ‘rise up and answer to the call’? (What we can do to protect, defend and preserve this place we call home?)

4. After brief initial group discussions, show 10-minute excerpt from a 90 minute video entitled “Life in These Islands,” created by Don Mapes. Share that this section is focused on living pono. Find video @ Vimeo link: http://vimeo.com/18417715

5. Continue discussions and debrief after watching the video.

6. Follow-up to this lesson can be done in many ways, including the following:
   - Have students make posters that reflect one of their ideas and display on campus.
   - Follow through with a community service project that reflects one of their ideas.
   - Play the E Ola Pono song or video daily till everyone memorizes it. Keep fostering discussions on what it is to live pono: Invite sharing of examples/experiences.
   - Start an Aloha Tree (See lesson plan) in your classroom to recognize special moments of living pono.

7. Remind students that E Ola Pono is a lifestyle and something we strive for each day. Revisit some of the ideas students came up with that are important to them. Encourage dialogue about what individuals can do, themselves, to live pono, and how they can care for themselves, others, and the place they call home.

Reflection Questions
* What’s something you want to remember from this song/video?
* What do you want to do to protect, preserve & defend what you feel is important to mālama (care for)?

About this song: This song was written for Donna Kahakui, known as Kahi. She created the Kai Makana Foundation and paddles from island to island to raise money for awareness about the importance of preserving our marine life and ocean. WAikalua Loko Fishpond Preservation Society

Where Science and Technology Serve Stewardship and Traditional Practices are Perpetuated

Stewardship Together:

Restoration and preservation of the Waikalua Loko I’a is an ongoing accomplishment by students, community groups, and many individuals during school visits and community work days. Public and private partners are taking responsibility for the stewardship of our 400 year old fishpond. Our work together breathes new life back into Waikalua Loko. As each stone is put back on the wall and each native plant takes root, we build the foundation for a healthier and sustainable future that honors the rich cultural and natural heritage of the Kāne‘ohe ahupua‘a.

Important: See their website for important information regarding work days, such as what to bring, directions, etc.

HAKIPUʻU STREAM RESTORATION

Started in the summer of 2012, this project is working to remove invasive species from Hakipuʻu head-water spring areas and reforest with native plant species. Native plant species will help to reduce the amount of sediment entering Hakipuʻu Stream and ultimately Kāneʻohe Bay. Enclosure fencing installed on the project protects native vegetation from domestic cattle and wild pigs. This project is largely volunteer-based. Volunteers will be provided with a cultural and ecological history of the site, project goals, identification of native species, proper planting techniques, and a safety briefing.

February 22, April 19, June 28, August 23, October 25, and December 27

-Please be on time as we need to take an easy 15 minute hike into the valley to reach the semi-remote work site and volunteers will not be allowed to hike in or leave the work site apart from the main group.
- No restroom facilities are available at the work site so make sure you 'go' at the meeting location.
- Closed-toe shoes are required, long pants and long sleeve shirt are recommended to help fend off mosquitoes.

AHUPUA‘A O KAHANA STATE PARK
Location: 52-222 Kamehameha Hwy (Highway 83) Kahana

Ahupua‘a O Kahana State Park is located on the windward side of O‘ahu, between Kāne‘ohe and La‘ie, and 26 miles from Honolulu. Kahana is a relatively unspoiled valley, and one of only a few publicly owned ahupua‘a, or ancient Hawaiian land division, in the state.

Ho‘ala ‘Āina Kupono Corporation (HAKC) received a $10,000 from Hawai‘i Tourism Authority to kick start the ALOHA KAHANA project. HAKC is partnering with State Parks and the Kahana community to propagate Native Hawaiian plants.
These plants will be used in the stream, along the stream banks, and forest areas. The groups are working to clear the waterways and banks of invasive species. This will help to improve habitat for native species in the stream, as well as native fauna to flourish in the forest area. If you would like to participate, please contact Kahiau Wallace (285-6784) or email. Workshops are scheduled every 4th Saturday from 8-1pm in Kahana.

The Living Park
The primary purpose of this park is to nurture and foster native Hawaiian cultural traditions and the cultural landscape of rural windward O‘ahu. Established as a "living park", there are thirty-one families living in the ahupua‘a of Kahana. These families assist with interpretive programs that share the Hawaiian values and lifestyle. If you have a group interested in a cultural program at the park, please call 237-7767.

THE MONK SEAL FOUNDATION

The Hawaiian monk seal is a species in crisis. There are currently fewer than 1,100 seals remaining and their numbers continue to decline by 4% per year.

The challenges they face are numerous including shark predation, human disturbance and habituation, fishery interactions, habitat loss, entanglement in marine debris, infectious disease, and even intentional killings. If the current population trends aren’t reversed, the population is expected to slip below 1,000 within the next few years.

A monk seal pup was recently born on the North Shore! Volunteers are needed for “pup sitting” and ongoing monitoring—ideal for students and island residents. For more info, contact woolwahine@hawaiiantel.net at the Hawaiian Monk Seal Response Team O'ahu.

Are you ready to get involved as a volunteer? Whether you volunteer for an hour or make a commitment over many months, you can play an important part in Hawaiian monk seal recovery. To get started, we need to know a little more about you. Complete a brief questionnaire (link follows,) and we will contact you to discuss the opportunities available that best match your skills and interests.
