

SPORT HAS THE POWER TO CHANGE THE WORLD

- NELSON MANDELA

We agree, sport IS powerful. Our mission, therefore, is to wield that power wisely – to use sport as an instrument of progress, conveying messages that empower, values that elevate, principles that educate, and ideals that build lasting peace. In pursuit of these goals, we've developed a dynamic network of experts and volunteers, ranging from coaches and players to university professors and physicians, all who share our commitment to impact communities around the world through sport.

Since 1992, SportForward has conducted a wide variety of sports projects in more than 60 countries. Along the way, we have learned valuable lessons about building meaningful cross-cultural relationships. These lessons-learned uniquely position us to create and support sustainable programs, where true progress begins and lasting change is achieved.

Our Corporate Sponsorship Program allows companies to be a part of the lasting change. We're seeking corporate partners who share our desire to empower, elevate, and inspire communities around the world through sport. A SportForward Corporate Sponsorship offers our partners unique worldwide exposure and visibility, as well as the opportunity to invest in some of the world's most marginalized and under-served communities.
