The history of every nation is eventually written in the way it cares for its soil—Franklin Delano Roosevelt

But for the fact that the earth is covered with a few inches of topsoil, and it rains, the rest is moot—Some guy

"Conservation means harmony between men and land. When land does well for its owner, and the owner does well by his land; when both end up better by reason of their partnership, we have conservation..." — Aldo Leopold, The Farmer as a Conservationist
Our goals: Family well being; farm profitability; producing affordable, healthy food from livestock humanely raised.

Our goals: Model grasslands management and environmental stewardship practices.

Figure 1: The tall grass prairie and other major prairie areas in the United States prior to European settlement (from Rosen et al., 1981).
A thing is right when it preserves the integrity, stability, and beauty of the biotic community. It is wrong when it tends otherwise. - A Sand County Almanac