By Colleen Sabo

"VIVID HORIZON: COLOR AND LIGHT"
May 4 - May 27, 2012

Opening Reception May 4, 2012 6-8:30 pm

Touchstone Gallery is pleased to present a solo exhibit of abstracted landscapes, painted by artist Colleen Sabo.

"Vivid Horizon: Color and Light" brings Sabo's Passion on Canvas to life. She strives to paint landscapes as they have never been rendered before, using color and light to define areas of the Chesapeake Bay and the Maine Coast where Sabo paints each year.

"Living on the Chesapeake Bay for 27 years has forged a deep appreciation and relationship with all the elements one experiences here—beautiful skies, ever-changing water, rural horse farms that have replaced tobacco fields, small waterfront towns, and magnificent weather changes. The Bay is a national treasure that deserves to be cherished and protected, and if my paintings add an awareness to that end, I am happy to be part of that."

Colleen Sabo is a resident of Friendship, Maryland (in southern Anne Arundel County), and when she is not painting she works with permanently injured birds of prey, helping to educate the public on the value of these magnificent creatures in our modern world.
