

LET IT IN

well have you heard the news i said a wall is coming down he cut his tooth on a one way trip and said i'm the only lord in this town i can see right though you and the stars buried in you eyes i've been holding your weight too long now i see your web of lies let it in, let it in now i pick it up, fuck it up now i've got my medicine whoa baby i've been living a lie for so many years, she sells the truth in her pin stripe suit and said son i'm the only source of your fears no, i don't mind the way she makes me feel its really very simple she's been swimming in and out of holes in my head

THE JUDGE

sixty days and i'm stone cold wasted i've been driving down the road taking nothin' for granted ice in my veins and i'm contemplating what's coming up is a revelation

I'm already sorry
the way i feel about you yesterday's like a stone wall painting i got a fistful of pills and i might not make it the judge is pumping heat and my pulse is racing ten thousand miles i can hardly taste it

i'm already sorry

another one's coming and another one's gone taking me down to depths i've never known spinning around in my wheels of fire dancing in the flames that fuel my desire don't you know it's never enough i cant hear the words that are lost in my head don't you know it's never enough on and on she's my only friend

well it's a son of a bitch and i'm wrapped up in a coffin of horror but your still here in my wheels of fire no one knows your name in a den full of liars gone gone everything i have is gone gone gone again

BARREL OF A GUN

i picked myself out of a hole so many times i can't remember how it feels on the other side i crossed the mountain five foot tall and six miles wide i hit the bottom sold my soul and ran and hide this time i'm worried it's far too long sometimes i feel i'm at the end of a gun and for all you're worth and all my lies i can't protect you from a city in disguise oh lookin' down the barrel of my gun oh baby lookin' down my gun i've seen the pain i've seen the world

i've had my fun the only time I feel safe is on the run we've lost some friends we've lost some time we've lost some tears i've been at the bottom of a bottle for so many years

SEVEN YEARS TO SATURN

takin' a trip on a cosmic death ride i'm goin' to Saturn with stars as my guide well you know I would never leave you this way stuck in this robot for seven long years six million sixty-six miles from my fears and i'm leavin' you here to wait i'll keep flyin' on these sad wings till the flames of hell brings me to my knees

i like the way the stars quiet my brain here on the outer rings my soul remains well you know i can't promise my fate i'm goin' down, i don't think i'll survive all of the gods that sit down at my side peace is what you give to me and mine and i'll keep flyin' on these sad wings

brings me to my knees

NIKKI

i caught a rainbow just the other day slipped right through my hands i heard that the lies you told were bringing you down bringing you down again and I'm wondering how it really feels to be so fucking content i can taste the sun on the tip of my tongue when i'm feeling glad i've been down before not like this i cant believe her anymore lord i think i'm sailing on she said a thousand times i wont ever make you a fool again it's so hard in this town i keep backing myself in and out of friends but who knows and who cares i think i'm better for things you said next time we meet

OFF THE RAILS

i got a line on you and all the evil things that you do y'all got a lot to say there's a revolution on the way oh in the land of the blind the man with one eye rules and that's just fine wounded, bleeding, helpless it's all just a game you've got lots of dreams but everybody knows you ain't what you seem pin my soul on my sleeve speak the truth and spill the blood on the streets she's a snake full of lies boy you better lose her in time

GLASS HOUSES

you want a piece a me yeah i take a part of you every time you walk away oh i want everything picking up all the pieces that's left by your name you know it ain't quite the same do you wanna believe me? do you wanna survive?

throwing stones in a glass house honey bold enough to be alive telephone is ringing it's 7:35 broken bones and real fine livin' lay your gun down at your side i wanna touch your skin i wanna bring you in my world and let you step back in time oh baby let me in picking up all the love and lies in my life every time that you walk by blow my mind do you wanna piece of me? come and take the whole fuckin' thing come on

RATTLESNAKE FLAKE

and if you leave me here i won't get stuck in my ways and I've been living a better life through pills and speed and she keeps calling and calling and calling and calling me all in a china white face of mediocrity oh I see through everyone, I won't let you down

It's like staring at the sun,
I won't let you down

and if it all ends here i won't be suffering it's in a place with the face and the whys and the whens
i got the rattlesnake flake and its a part of me a part of me

CATALINA

and it's time you know where all things precious really stand i can breathe sometimes when i wake up again well she says all the words that you thought you wanted to hear every time it's around my vision seems to be so unclear she didn't want me to get this far and I told here life goes on and on and i need a rest from things and places in my head and i feel that nothing matters and no one else

i've been round and around and there ain't no place much like here and it's time you knew that things weren't always vey clear

WHAT HAVE YOU DONE?

I've got reasons and secrets On both sides of the page And baby I'm very certain now I'll never change

Step inside my world And I'll show you all my pain

What have you done lately
To ease my mind

Forget all my past relations And you can dime me out for days Baby don't worry, no don't worry now I'm branded by my own faith
