HAZEL MILLER GETS JAZZED ABOUT REFUGEE YOUTH

Denver, CO – Hazel Miller, a local blues and jazz performer, is partnering with ECDC African Community Center (ACC) of Denver to perform at a fundraiser benefiting refugee youth on September 23rd. One Shared Dream will feature Miller as well as four inspirational stories of young refugees who have overcome incredible odds to be where they are today.

“We’re delighted by Hazel Miller’s support of refugee young adult leaders, and look forward to her performance at the event,” says Melissa Theesen, ACC Managing Director. “The evening will be full of toe-tapping music and a true celebration of local refugee youth’s hopes and dreams.”

Miller, who has been named by Denver’s Mayor as one of 150 people who make Denver a better place to live, extends a warm welcome to the public. “The band and I will bring you a lively and fun evening. Come join us!”

The public is invited to see Miller’s performance at the One Shared Dream: A Fundraiser for Refugee Youth from 5:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. on Sept. 23, 2016, at Graland Country Day School. Event tickets can be purchased at www.acc-den.org.

ACC youth programs support and prepare refugee and immigrant young adults as they navigate new sociocultural, economic, academic, and personal landscapes. College access classes, after school programs, and a Refugee Leaders Scholarship all provide leadership and character development activities to ensure the future upward mobility of refugee youth as they transition into a different cultural context.

ECDC African Community Center is a refugee resettlement agency that helps nearly 600 refugees from around the world rebuild safe, sustainable lives in Denver annually. To learn more about ECDC African Community Center, please visit www.acc-den.org.
