Principal

Fremont has over a decade of experience working in the green industry. He has successfully managed projects through the whole life-cycle of a landscape; from conceptual design through long term maintenance. This practical knowledge results in designs that are functional as beautiful.

Fremont also understands the importance of telling the story of a project. He has a successful record presenting projects to the public, and decision makers. With a straight forward and earnest approach, he can clearly communicate the intent and deep thought that goes into a Marquis Halback design.
