

Judith Williamson

Director,
The Napoleon Hill World Learning Center

Napoleon Hill World Learning Center at Purdue University Calumet, has been studying Napoleon Hill's motivational philosophy for 15 years. She is a certified instructor for the Science of Success Course, the PMA: A System of Self-Management Course, and also conducts the Napoleon Hill Distance Learning Course and instructor certifications locally, nationally, and internationally. Judy's background is in public education and she has served as a teacher as well as an administrator for over 25 years. Degreed in English, Spanish, Reading, and Educational Administration, Judy likes to reach diverse groups with Hill's philosophy because the philosophy is so genuinely applicable to everyone. Truth knows no boundaries. She has authored several books in collaboration with the Napoleon Hill Foundation.

Judith is an international speaker, author, and Director of the Napoleon World Learning Center at Purdue University Calumet, Hammond, Indiana since 2000.

Works include: How to Become a Mental Millionaire, Poems to Inspire You to Think and Grow Rich, Timeless Thoughts for Today, Fifty-Two Lessons for Life, Success Vitamins for a Positive Mind and Napoleon Hill's Magic Seeds for Success. Guest writer for Pure Inspiration and author of the weekly electronic ezine Napoleon Hill Yesterday and Today.

She is a Purdue graduate, holds advanced degrees in English, Spanish, and Administration, and has been a presenter at the American Society for Quality World Conferences in Seattle, Minneapolis, and also Qualcom, a division of ASQ, in Brisbane, Australia. Currently, she is working on disseminating Dr. Napoleon Hill's materials worldwide through her writings, workshops, and seminars.

Latest publication:
Daily Duets
By Napoleon Hill & Judith Williamson