Leading on the Edge

Respect | Innovation | Collaboration

EXTRAORDINARY LEADERSHIP STORIES AND INSIGHTS FROM THE MOST EXTREME WORKPLACE ON THE PLANET

The challenges leaders face are practically the same in every workplace. Leaders must acknowledge and navigate through the perpetual scrutiny, the frequent isolation, and the need to keep going when you feel you have nothing more to give. And through all this, must be authentic, resilient, innovative and adaptable!

Leading on the Edge resonates with audiences seeking inspiration and tools to build their leadership capability.

Whether you're leading a team in an isolated, remote workplace or arm-wrestling spreadsheets in a busy corporate office, the same rules apply. Great leaders embrace the technical, political and personal domains. They know how to get the most out of their teams, even when it feels like they are navigating in the dark without a compass.

SPECIFIC TAKEAWAYS

For a typical 45 minute session, clients typically choose up to four of the key topics listed below:

- Bacon Wars - why it's critical to major in the minor things (and why every organisation has a coffee cup sign in the kitchen)
- No Triangles – how to build a culture of respect through direct conversations
- Plane Crash – tools to support leaders through emergency, turmoil and adversity
- Resilience – tools to look after yourself and develop your ability to stick at the tough stuff and endure the bumps
- Respect Trumps Harmony – how to avoid falling into the “harmony” trap and unlock results & innovation
- Sunday breakfast - understand the scrutiny of leadership, manage the spotlight

PRAISE FROM BUSINESS LEADERS

“Rachael would be one of the best guest speakers I have ever had speak at my events. She is captivating and interesting, real and inspiring.” CPA Australia

"Rachael linked her leadership challenges and experiences to what we as team leaders face every day in the office. BRILLIANT!"
