Guiding Good Choices Facilitator Training Hosted by

Prosser CIA (Community Involvement and Action) with our Community Partners

The goal of the Evidence Based Program: Guiding Good Choices is to prevent substance abuse among future teens by teaching parents of preteens and younger adolescents (ages 9-14) the skills they need to improve family communication and family bonding. The program is delivered in five, two hour classes and is available in English and Spanish.

During the course of Guiding Good Choices program, parents will learn specific strategies in to help their children avoid drug use and other adolescent problem behaviors and develop into healthy adults. Parents will learn to set clear family guidelines on drugs as well as learn and proactive skills to strengthen family bond, help their children develop healthy behavior and increase children's involvement within their family unit.
