WHO ARE WE?

AN HONOR BELL
SOCIAL STUDIES AND
LITERACY CURRICULUM

An exploration of American, Military & Veterans’ history through project-based and experiential learning.

Includes tailored, adaptable lessons for grades
Pre-K through 12.

DIGNITY | HONOR | RESPECT
FREEDOM MUST STILL RING

HEED THE CALL

Our nation has always been fortunate. Through the decades, our fellow citizens have defended our communities as members of the armed services. On land, at sea and in the air, many have given much to maintain the American ideal.

But every year in Colorado, thousands of veterans, from World War II to the Global War on Terror, are buried without meaningful military honors. The reasons are simple: lack of personnel, lack of funds—the story would be mundane if it weren't so tragic. These men and women who selflessly offered their lives to protect our Liberty and our values are laid to rest without even the honors that were promised to them. And while all parties do their best, there is still more that can be done.

The Honor Bell Foundation seeks to remedy that, by creating a community of veterans to foster public appreciation of military service, and honor their fellow veterans with a proper, final tribute. We have commissioned a custom Honor Bell, forged from bronze, including medals and insignia from veterans, to be rung by a corps of former service members from all conflicts and military branches. Through our Bell Honors Program, which will sound at veterans' funeral services, to our Veterans Outreach and Bell Guard programs, we intend to make sure that those who offered their lives as the price of Freedom will have their honors tolled throughout the land.

CONTACT US

THE HONOR BELL FOUNDATION
P.O. BOX 12400 | DENVER, CO 80201 | 720.282.9182
We are a Colorado Nonprofit, 501(c)(3) corporation.

LOUIS OLIVERA, Executive Director | lou.olivera@honorbell.org

MICHELLE MALLIN, Chief of Staff | michelle.mallin@honorbell.org

BRENT GUGIELMINO, Director of Education and Outreach | brent.gugielmino@honorbell.org

DAVID MARCHAND, Director of Bell Honors | david.marchand@honorbell.org

ALAN BUCKNAM, Director of Marketing | alan.bucknam@honorbell.org
EDUCATION PROGRAM

The HONOR BELL WHO ARE WE? Curriculum is designed for students in grades from preschool and kindergarten all the way up through twelfth grade. The curriculum includes lessons, suggested readings, and project-based learning assignments specifically tailored to each grade level and aligned with Colorado Academic Standards in both social studies and literacy. The curriculum motivates students to examine American, Military, and Veterans’ history through topics that are of personal interest to them.

Following completion of grade-level specific lessons, students then complete the CONNECTION LESSON. This sub-lesson asks students to analyze the leader, issue, law, conflict, or structure of government that they researched and question how we can use American history to understand and provide DIGNITY, HONOR, and RESPECT to our nation and the Veterans who have fought throughout history to defend it.

The final component of the EDUCATION PROGRAM is the ASSEMBLY. The HONOR BELL FOUNDATION will wrap up the education program experience with a visit to your school, complete with the beautiful 1000-pound bronze bell, Honor Guard, and Honor Bell experts. Students will be able to ask questions, engage with Veterans, and touch the bell with gloved hands. Teachers are also encouraged to team up with the Honor Bell Foundation to engage local Veterans.

The HONOR BELL WHO ARE WE? Curriculum is designed to be flexible and adaptable for all teachers’ schedules. Lessons can be adjusted to be one-day exercises that introduce students to the grade-level specific topics, much longer projects that require in-depth research, and anything in between. No matter which you choose the ultimate goal of the HONOR BELL FOUNDATION is to educate students on American history in a meaningful way, afford Veterans the DIGNITY, HONOR, and RESPECT they deserve, and forge a sense of unity across people of all ages.
WHO ARE WE?
Members of a Group

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE PART OF A GROUP?
Students will research what civic participation is. Why is it important to ask questions, share information, and discuss ideas in groups?

SUGGESTIONS FOR READING
Introduce students to words and phrases within the following documents:

- Preamble of the Constitution
  “We the People of the United States”
  “a more perfect Union”
  “ourselves and our Posterity”

- Declaration of Independence
  “mankind”
  “consent of the governed”
  “these Colonies”
  “these States”
  “brethren”

FURTHER QUESTIONING
- What groups do you belong to?
- Do you belong to groups that others do not belong to?
- What is civic participation?
- What is it important to listen to the ideas of others in your group?
- What is it important to listen to the ideas of other groups?
- Why is civic participation in the United States special or unique?

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING ACTIVITY
Discuss these words, phrases, and questions as a group. Then encourage students to write, draw, or graphically depict what they think these words mean, and why it is important to be a part of a group.

EXTENSION: Split students into groups (for older or advanced students, consider placing them in groups by issue), allow them to discuss what makes them alike and different amongst each other what makes them alike and different from other groups, and how they would solve problems with teach other and other groups.
COLORADO ACADEMIC STANDARDS ALIGNMENT

Preschool Social Studies

| History | 1. Change and sequence over time | • Students understand the general temporal progression of American history from colonization to present day. |
| Geography | 1. Develop spatial understanding, perspectives, and connections to the world | • Students identify and sort themselves into different and various groups. |
| Economics | 1. People work to meet wants 2. Recognize money and identify its purpose (PFL) | • Students understand the concept of civic engagement, and how individuals utilize it to meet their wants. |
| Civics | 1. Individuals have unique talents but also work with others in groups 2. Rules and their purpose in allowing groups to work effectively | • Students understand that individuals are part of different groups for different reasons, why cooperation is important, and why rules are important in managing groups. |

Reading, Writing & Communication

| Oral Expression and Listening | 1. Conceptual understanding conveyed through vocabulary words can occur using a variety of modalities 2. Listening and comprehension skills are required to be clearly understood 3. Early knowledge of phonemic awareness is the building block of understanding language | • Students are presented with words from primary source documents via speaking and writing, and made to understand their conceptual meanings.  • Discussion among; students about group membership requires both active listening and thought-out answers.  • Students use new words to expand their phonemic understanding of that word. |
| Reading for All Purposes | 1. Print conveys meaning 2. Symbol, object, and letter recognition is a fundamental of reading and requires accuracy and speed | • Students explore words, attempt to sound them out, spell them, and use them. |
| Writing and Composition | 1. Pictures express ideas 2. Letters are formed with accuracy | • Students express their understanding of group membership and civic engagement through writing and artistic, pictorial modalities. |
| Research and Reasoning | 1. Relevant information is different from non-relevant information 2. Problems can be identified and possible solutions can be created | • In groups, students decide why certain things are important to them, and others are not.  • Students come up with solutions to problems between groups. |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>KINDERGARTEN</th>
<th>SOCIAL STUDIES</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| History | 1. Ask questions, share information and discuss ideas about the past;
2. The first component in the concept of chronology is to place information in sequential order | • Students understand the general, temporal progression of American history from colonization to present day.
• Students discuss the foundations of what makes Americans a group. |
| Geography | 1. People belong to different groups and live in different settings around the world that can be found on a map or globe | • Students identify and sort themselves into different and various groups, and discuss how they differ from groups around them and from different parts of the world. |
| Economics | 1. Ownership as a component of economics
2. Discuss how purchases can be made to meet wants and needs (PFL) | • Students understand the concept of civic engagement, and how individuals utilize it to meet their wants and needs. |
| Civics | 1. Participate in making decisions using democratic traditions
2. Civic participation takes place in multiple groups | • Students understand that individuals are part of different groups for different reasons, why cooperation is important, and why rules are important in managing groups. |

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>READING, WRITING &amp; COMMUNICATION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Oral Expression and Listening | 1. Oral communication skills are built within a language-rich environment
2. Communication relies on effective verbal and nonverbal skills
3. Vocal sounds produce words and meaning to create early knowledge of phonemic awareness | • Students are presented with words from primary source documents via speaking and writing, and made to understand their conceptual meanings.
• Discussion amongst students about group membership requires both active listening and thoughtful answers.
• Students use new words to expand their phonemic understanding of that word. |
| Reading for All Purposes | 1. A concept of print to read and a solid comprehension of literary texts are the building blocks for reading
2. A concept of print to read and a solid comprehension of informational text are the building blocks for reading
3. Decoding words in print requires alphabet recognition and knowledge of letter sounds | • Students explore documents, to understand words and context.
• Students decode other words that they may understand within documents. |
| Writing and Composition | 1. Text types and purposes, labels, and familiar words are used to communicate information and ideas
2. Appropriate mechanics and conventions are used to create simple texts | • Students express their understanding of group membership and civic engagement through writing and artistic, pictorial modalities. |
| Research and Reasoning | 1. A variety of locations must be explored to find information that answers questions of interest
2. Identify purpose, information and question an issue
3. Quality of thinking depends on the quality of questions | • In groups, students discuss as issue, and decide how they feel about it via guided questioning.
• Students decide which groups they agree to disagree with, and how to solve problems between groups. |
WHO ARE WE?
Leaders

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE A LEADER?
Students will identify one notable person from American history. They will then research how and why this person was an effective leader. Why do we still study them? What impact have they had on the United States (i.e. notable places, holidays, patriotic symbols)?

SUGGESTIONS FOR READING
Introduce students to documents written by founders and leaders, for example:

- Declaration of Independence
  John Adams and Thomas Jefferson
- “Farewell Address”
  George Washington
- Common Sense
  Thomas Paine
- “Thirteen Virtues”
  Benjamin Franklin
- “Gettysburg Address”
  Abraham Lincoln
- “Women’s Right to the Suffrage”
  Susan B. Anthony
- “Day of Infamy Address”
  Franklin D. Roosevelt
- “I Have A Dream”
  Martin Luther King, Jr.

FURTHER QUESTIONING
- Compare this person to a modern leader who you think exemplifies the same qualities.
- Who do you think individuals will study in 100 years? Why?
- What qualities does this individuals share with historical leaders?
- What can you do to be a good leader in your classroom, community, etc.?

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING ACTIVITY
After performing research on their selected leaders, students select three leadership qualities of that individual, and present them to their classmates via written report, graphic display, acting, or some other chosen form of presentation. They will then present to their class how a modern day leaders also exemplifies these qualities, citing examples.
Colorado Academic Standards Alignment

First Grade

Social Studies

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>History</th>
<th>1. Describe patterns and chronological order of events of the recent past. 2. Family and cultural traditions in the United States in the past.</th>
<th>Students understand the general, temporal progression of American history from colonization to present day. Students describe and understand the continuities and differences between leadership qualities throughout American history.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Geography</td>
<td>1. Geographic tools such as maps and globes to represent places. 2. People in different groups and communities interact with each other and the environment.</td>
<td>Students identify and sort themselves into different and various groups according to what they perceive a leader to be. Students recognize that leadership can encompass a number of qualities, represent a number of different groups, and must mediate interests of other groups and their leaders.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Economics</td>
<td>1. People work at different types of jobs and in different types of organizations in order to produce goods and services and receive an income. 2. Identify short term financial goals (PFL).</td>
<td>Students understand that leaders emerge in many different professions and to fight for a range of causes. Students understand that leaders in business share some of the same qualities as political and social leaders. Students understand that leaders can represent a range of goals, whether they be monetary, political, social, personal, etc.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Civics</td>
<td>1. Effective groups have responsible leaders and team members. 2. Notable people, places, holidays, and patriotic symbols.</td>
<td>Students understand that individuals are part of different groups for different reasons, why cooperation is important, and why rules are important in managing groups. Students understand that effective leaders emerge to lead various groups. Students recognize important historical leaders and their contributions.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Reading, Writing & Communication

| Oral Expression and Listening | 1. Multiple strategies develop and expand oral vocabulary. 2. Verbal and nonverbal language is used to express and receive information. 3. Identifying and manipulating phonemes in spoken words allow people to understand the meaning of speech. | Students are presented with words from primary source documents via speaking and writing, and made to understand their conceptual meanings. Discussion amongst students about group membership requires both active listening and thought-out answers. Students use new words to expand their phonemic understanding. |
| Writing and Composition | 1. Exploring the writing process develops ideas for writing texts that carry meaning. 2. Appropriate spelling, conventions, and grammar are applied when writing. | Students express their understanding of documents written by famous leaders, and use them to apply meaning in their own writing. Students practice implementing correct grammar and punctuation through both observation of texts and practice in their own work. |
| Research and Reasoning | 1. A variety of resources leads to locating information and answering questions of interest. 2. Purpose, information, and questions about an issue are essential steps in early research. | Students begin performing primary source research by looking at famous documents authored by historical American leaders, as well as any additional resources they might find. Students make connections from this research between historical leaders and modern leaders. |
SECOND GRADE ★

WHO ARE WE?
Advocates for Ideas

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO TAKE A STAND FOR A NEW IDEA?
Students will be presented with a historical source (i.e. the Declaration of Independence). They will then formulate ideas about how these people of the past influenced their neighborhoods, communities, the nation, and/or the world. Students will then formulate an example of when someone in their community advocated for their ideas.

SUGGESTIONS FOR READING
Introduce students to documents written by founders and leaders, for example:

- Declaration of Independence
- Articles of Confederation
- Constitution
- Federalist, #51
- 13th Amendment
- 19th Amendment
- Bill of Rights

* Students should focus on one “new” idea in each source.

FURTHER QUESTIONING
- What new idea were the authors taking a stand for in the chosen document?
- How have these people and ideas of the past influenced us today? Have they helped us advocate for our ideas?
- Why is it important to have someone represent your ideas?
- How can we use these tools to resolve our differences?

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING ACTIVITY
Students outline the idea advocated for in their chosen document, why they believe it was important and advocated for, and who opposed this idea and why. Students also identify one modern idea they would advocate for, as well as one strategy to solve a problem. Students present this information to their classmates via written report, graphic display, acting, or some other chosen form of presentation.

EXTENSION: Teachers may choose to assign students opposing topics and stage a debate answering the above outlined questions.
Colorado Academic Standards Alignment

Second Grade

Social Studies

| History | 1. Identify historical sources and utilize the tools of a historian.
2. People in the past influenced the history of neighborhoods and communities. | • Students study primary documents and decide what "new" ideas the documents advocated for.
• Students analyze how these "new" ideas changed the neighborhoods and communities of the past and today. |
| --- | --- | --- |
| Geography | 1. Use geographic terms and tools to describe space and place.
2. People in communities manage, modify, and depend on their environment. | • Students identify the factions in favor of and opposed to the idea set forth in a particular document, and locate the geographically and temporally.
• Students examine how a change in political environment changed communities. |
| Economics | 1. The scarcity of resources affects the choices of individuals and communities.
2. Apply decision-making processes to financial decision making (PFL). | • Students discover the reasoning (i.e. scarcity of a particular resource) for the advocacy of a new idea. |
| Civics | 1. Responsible community members advocate for their ideas.
2. People use multiple ways to resolve conflicts or differences. | • Students understand that individuals are part of different groups for different reasons, why cooperation is important, and why rules are important in managing groups.
• Students understand that effective leaders emerge to lead various groups and advocate for certain ideas.
• Students recognize different problem solving solutions between different factions. |

Reading, Writing & Communication

| Oral Expression and Listening | 1. Discussions contribute and expand on the ideas of self and others.
2. New information can be learned and better dialogue created by listening actively. | • Discussion amongst students about advocating for ideas requires both active listening and thought-out answers. |
| --- | --- | --- |
| Reading for All Purposes | 1. Fluent reading depends on specific skills and approaches to understanding strategies when reading literary text.
2. Fluent reading depends on specific skills and approaches to understanding strategies when reading informational text.
3. Decoding words with accuracy depends on knowledge of complex spelling patterns and morphology. | • Students begin to explore primary source documents from many different historical periods.
• Students begin to utilize their vocabulary and context to help make sense of complex and unfamiliar words. |
| Writing and Composition | 1. Exploring the writing process helps to plan and draft a variety of literary genres.
2. Exploring the writing process helps to plan and draft a variety of simple informational texts.
3. Appropriate spelling, capitalization, grammar, and punctuation are used and applied when writing. | • Students express their understanding of historical documents.
• Students articulate the main point of historical documents in their own information texts.
• Students practice implementing correct grammar and punctuation through both observation of texts and practice in their own work. |
| Research and Reasoning | 1. Reference materials help us locate information and answer questions.
2. Questions are essential to analyze and evaluate the quality of thinking. | • Students begin performing primary source research by looking at documents regarding the advocacy of new ideas.
• Students make pose questions about why these ideas were revolutionary, why some were in favor of them, and why some opposed.
THIRD GRADE ★

WHO ARE WE?
Members of a Democracy

WHAT DOES IS A DEMOCRACY?
Students will research what a democracy is. They will choose one component of a democratic society (i.e. voting) Why is this component important to us as Americans?
What would happen if this component were not part of American society?

SUGGESTIONS FOR READING
Introduce students to documents that articulate specific rights. Have them choose one to focus on.

- Bill of Rights
- 11th-27th Amendments
- Civil Rights Acts
- Voting Rights Acts
- Fair Housing Acts and Amendments

FURTHER QUESTIONING
- Why were some groups denied democratic rights?
- What does it mean to debate these components?
- Why is it important to respect people with different views?
- How do these components work in a local government?
- Why do our democratic rights matter in local government?

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING ACTIVITY
Students outline the democratic right they researched. They then assess whether this right was once denied to any particular group, and/or why there was opposition to it, and whether or not they think there is still a debate over or a denial of this democratic right.
They should conclude with an example of how this democratic right is used in local government. Students present this information to their classmates via written report, graphic display, acting, or some other chosen form of presentation.

EXTENSION: Teachers may choose to have students with opposing topics stage a debate answering the above outlined questions.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SUBJECT</th>
<th>THIRD GRADE SOCIAL STUDIES</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| History | 1. Use a variety of sources to distinguish historical fact from fiction.
2. People in the past influenced the development and interaction of different communities and regions.
   • Students study primary documents and discern historical facts from popular fiction.
   • Students analyze how and why individuals in the past advocated for and passed legislation, and discuss how it affects us now.
| Geography | 1. Use various types of geographic tools to develop spatial thinking.
2. The concept of regions is developed through an understanding of similarities and differences in places.
   • Students identify how democratic rights have been applied to different groups of people, and locate these geographically and temporally.
   • Students use maps to identify demographics geographically.
| Economics | 1. Describe producers and consumers and how goods and services are exchanged.
2. Describe how to meet short-term financial goals (PFL).
   • Students discover the economic implications of particular facets of democracy.
| Civics | 1. Respecting the views and rights of others as components of a democratic society.
2. The origin, structure and function of local government.
   • Students understand that others are also entitled to the views and rights of a democratic society.
   • Students discuss why, historically, some groups were denied their democratic rights.
   • Students identify how their local government works, and how it contributes to state and federal government.
| READING, WRITING & COMMUNICATION |
| Oral Expression and Listening | 1. Oral communication is used both informally and formally.
2. Successful group activities need the cooperation of everyone.
   • Discussion amongst students about democratic rights requires both active listening and thought-out answers.
| Reading for All Purposes | 1. Strategies are needed to make meaning of various types of literary genres.
2. Comprehension strategies are necessary when reading informational or persuasive text.
3. Increasing word understanding, word use, and word relationships increases vocabulary.
   • Students begin to explore primary source documents from many different historical periods.
   • Students begin to utilize their vocabulary and context to help make sense of complex and unfamiliar words and information.
| Writing and Composition | 1. A writing process is used to plan, draft, and write a variety of literary genres.
2. A writing process is used to plan, draft, and write a variety of informational texts.
3. Correct grammar, capitalization, punctuation, and spelling are used when writing.
   • Students express their understanding of historical documents.
   • Students articulate the main point of historical documents in their own information texts.
   • Students practice implementing correct grammar and punctuation through both observation of texts and practice in their own work.
| Research and Reasoning | 1. Researching a topic and sharing findings are often done with others.
2. Inferences and points of view exist.
   • Students begin performing primary source research by looking at documents regarding democratic rights and discuss them with classmates.
   • Students understand via research that opposing points of views exist, and make inferences about why this is. |
FOURTH GRADE ★

WHO ARE WE?
Coloradans

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE A COLORADAN?
Students will choose a key individual or group from Colorado’s history. They will then describe what key event or idea this person was responsible for spearheading in Colorado. What was the cause and effect of their actions? What are the implications for Colorado today?

SUGGESTIONS FOR READING
Introduce students to primary documents regarding Colorado’s history:

- Colorado State Constitution
- Denver Public Library: Western History Resources
  Includes topics on:
  - Elitch Gardens
  - National Western Stockshow
  - Civilian Conservation Corps
  - Ralph Carr
  - Corky Gonzalez
  - Justina Ford
  - Benjamin Stapleton
  - Women’s Suffrage
- Hispanic History Resources at History Colorado
- Colorado Historic Newspaper Collection
  *All of the above resources and many more are available online and can be accessed through the Colorado Department of Education Website.

Teachers may also find these secondary sources useful for reference:

- Colorado Story by Debra Faulkner and Thomas Noel
- My Colorado by William Virden and Mary Borg
- Discover Colorado: It’s People, Places, and Times by Matthew T. Downey and Ty Bliss
- Colorado by Cynthia Walker

FURTHER QUESTIONING

- How is this Colorado person or event related to larger events in the United States?
- What other perspectives were there about this event or idea?
- How is this person, idea, and/or event effecting us today?

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING ACTIVITY
Students outline the person, idea, event, etc. that they chose. They should explicitly address any conflict surrounding this event, how this helped shape the Colorado government, how it relates to larger United States history, and how it continues to impact us today. Students present this information to their classmates via written report, graphic display, acting, or some other chosen form of presentation.

EXTENSION: Teachers may choose to sort students with similar topics into groups and allow them to create a short skit that answers the above topics, while also encouraging creative collaboration.
COLORADO ACADEMIC STANDARDS ALIGNMENT

FOURTH GRADE

SOCIAL STUDIES

| History | 1. Organize a sequence of events to understand the concepts of chronology and cause and effect in the history of Colorado.
2. The historical eras, individuals, groups, ideas, and themes in Colorado history and their relationships to key events in the United States. | - Students study primary documents and understand the temporal progression of Colorado history.
- Students analyze how Colorado history was aligned with or impacted United States history. |
| --- | --- | --- |
| Geography | 1. Use several types of geographic tools to answer questions about the geography of Colorado.
2. Connections within and across human and physical systems are developed. | - Students use maps to outline developments in Colorado history.
- Students discern connections (both similarities and differences) across Coloradans and Americans. |
| Economics | 1. People respond to positive and negative incentives.
2. The relationship between choice and opportunity cost (PFL.) | - Students discover how incentives motivated decisions in Colorado history.
- Students assess the consequences of historical decisions. |
| Civics | 1. Analyze and debate multiple perspectives on an issue.
2. The origins, structure, and functions of the Colorado government. | - Students discuss why, historically, some groups in Colorado history had opposing views, and what the implications of these disagreements were.
- Students identify how the Colorado government works, and how it impacts federal government. |

READING, WRITING & COMMUNICATION

| Oral Expression and Listening | 1. A clear communication plan is necessary to effectively deliver and receive information. | - Discussion amongst students about Colorado history requires both active listening and thought-out answers.
- Students must plan the oral components of a presentation. |
| Reading for All Purposes | 1. Comprehension and fluency matter when reading literary texts in a fluent way.
2. Comprehension and fluency matter when reading informational and persuasive texts in a fluent way.
3. Knowledge of complex orthography (spelling patterns), morphology (word meanings), and word relationships to decode (read) multisyllabic words contributes to better reading skills. | - Students demonstrate comprehension when researching primary source documents from many different historical periods.
- Students tackle difficult texts via reading tools and context clues to increase reading skills. |
| Writing and Composition | 1. The recursive writing process is used to create a variety of literary genres for an intended audience.
2. Informational and persuasive texts use the recursive writing process.
3. Correct sentence formation, grammar, punctuation, capitalization, and spelling are applied to make the meaning clear to the reader. | - Students express their understanding of historical documents.
- Students articulate the main point of historical documents in their own information texts.
- Students practice implementing correct grammar and punctuation through both observation of texts and practice in their own work. |
| Research and Reasoning | 1. Comprehending new information for research is a process undertaken with discipline both alone and within groups.
2. Identifying implications, concepts, and ideas enriches reasoning skills. | - Students perform primary source research by looking at documents regarding democratic rights and discuss them with classmates.
- Students understand via research that opposing points of views exist, and make inferences about why this is. |
WHO ARE WE?
Americans

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE AN AMERICAN?
Students will select a structure or function of the United States government (i.e. freedom of speech). They will then research the origins of this aspect of the U.S. governmental system. How have ideas about citizenship influenced this structure?

SUGGESTIONS FOR READING
Introduce students to primary documents regarding the structure of the U.S. government.
- Declaration of Independence
- Articles of Confederation
- Federalist Papers (specifically 47-51 on separation of powers)
- Constitution
- Bill of Rights

FURTHER QUESTIONING
- What are the historical justifications for this structure or function?
- How have discussions regarding citizenship impacted this structure?
- How does this structure or function impact us today? Should it stay the same? Be revised? Are we debating it?

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING ACTIVITY
Students outline the structure of government they researched. They then assess its relationship to citizenship, their opinion on it and why they feel that way, and how it impacts us today. Students present this information to their classmates via written report, graphic display, acting, or some other chosen form of presentation.

EXTENSION: Teachers may choose to assign groups of students to one of each of the ten amendments in the Bill of Rights. The groups would answer the above questions collaboratively.
Colorado Academic Standards Alignment

Fifth Grade

Social Studies

| History | 1. Analyze historical sources from multiple points of view to develop an understanding of historical context.
2. The historical eras, individuals, groups, ideas, and themes in North America from 1491 through the founding of the United States government. | • Students study primary documents and understand the temporal progression of American history.
• Students analyze how structures of the U.S. government were developed, debated, and changed/remained the same from 1491 through the founding of the U.S. government. |
| --- | --- | --- |
| Geography | 1. Use various geographic tools and sources to answer questions about the geography of the United States.
2. Causes and consequences of movement. | • Students use maps to outline developments in American history.
• Students discern connections between human movement and the structure of government (i.e., colonization and American independence). |
2. Utilizing financial institutions to manage personal finances (PEL). | • Students discover how market structures and financial institutions influenced the structure of the government (i.e., taxation and American independence). |
| Civics | 1. The foundations of citizenship in the United States.
2. The origins, structure, and functions of the United States government. | • Students discuss why discussions about citizenship helped shape the structure of the American government.
• Students identify how the American government was created, works, and how it has changed/remained the same over time. |

Reading, Writing & Communication

| Oral Expression and Listening | 1. Effective communication requires speakers to express an opinion, provide information, describe a process, and persuade an audience.
2. Listening strategies are techniques that contribute to understanding different situations and serving different purposes. | • Students must formulate an opinion about the structure of government they research and describe it to an audience.
• Students must plan the oral components of a presentation.
• Students must engage in active listening to the presentations of others. |
| --- | --- | --- |
| Reading for All Purposes | 1. Literary texts are understood and interpreted using a range of strategies.
2. Ideas found in a variety of informational texts need to be compared and understood.
3. Knowledge of morphology and word relationships matters when reading. | • Students demonstrate comprehension when researching primary source documents.
• Students make connections across sources.
• Students tackle difficult texts via reading tools and context clues to increase reading skills. |
| Writing and Composition | 1. The recursive writing process contributes to the creative and unique literary genres for a variety of audiences and purposes.
2. The recursive writing process creates stronger informational and persuasive texts for a variety of audiences and purposes.
3. Conventions apply consistently when evaluating written texts. | • Students express their understanding of historical documents.
• Students articulate the main point of historical documents in their own information texts.
• Students practice implementing correct grammar and punctuation through both observation of texts and practice in their own work. |
| Research and Reasoning | 3. High-quality research requires information that is organized and presented with documentation.
4. Identifying and evaluating concepts and ideas have implications and consequences.
5. Quality reasoning requires asking questions and analyzing and evaluating viewpoints. | • Students perform primary source research by looking at documents regarding the structure of the U.S. government and discuss them with classmates.
• Students understand via research that opposing points of views exist, and make inferences about why this is.
• Students display their acquired knowledge in a meaningful way. |
WHO ARE WE?
Interconnected

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO LIVE IN A GLOBALIZED WORLD?
Students will first select a country (Western Hemisphere for 6th grade; Eastern Hemisphere for 7th grade) with which the United States trades (or traded with during some point in history). They will then select a specific good traded between that country and the U.S., and use primary documents, maps, and data to discover the other countries and dynamics involved in this trade partnership.

SUGGESTIONS FOR READING
Introduce students to primary documents that outline trade agreements throughout history:
- British Navigation Act of 1651
- Siamese-American Treaty of 1833
- Cobden-Chevalier Treaty
- McKinley Tariff Act of 1980
- Bretton Woods Agreement
- General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs (GATT)
- North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA)

FURTHER QUESTIONING
- What, if any, international organizations govern/regulate this relationship?
- Are the economic and governmental systems of these the countries the same or different?
- What makes these relationships successful?

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING ACTIVITY
Students present the trade route of their good (or service) via some form of graphic organization. They also outline the types of governments and economies the United States works with along with route, as well as any international agreements governing these relationships.

EXTENSION: Teachers may choose to have students work in groups. Each student would represent either a country or international agreement along with trade route of a particular good or service. This extension would require each component to be researched in greater depth.
Sixth Grade Social Studies

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Standards</th>
<th>Notes</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| History      | 1. Analyze and interpret historical sources to ask and research historical questions
                2. The historical eras, individuals, groups, ideas and themes in regions of the Western Hemisphere and their relationships with one another | Students study primary documents to form historical questions and thesis regarding U.S. relationships with countries in the Western Hemisphere. |
| Geography    | 1. Use geographic tools to solve problems
                2. Human and physical systems vary and interact | Students use maps to observe geographical relationships and trace trade routes. |
| Economics    | 1. Identify and analyze different economic systems
                2. Saving and investing are key contributors to financial well being (PBL) | Students discover how globalized systems impact economic and trade decisions. |
| Civics       | 1. Analyze the interconnected nature of the United States to other nations
                2. Compare multiple systems of governments | Students examine how the United States is connected to Western Hemisphere countries.
                                                                                     Students compare and contrast forms of government in these different countries to enhance their understanding of the globalized world. |

Reading, Writing & Communication

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Skill</th>
<th>Standards</th>
<th>Notes</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Oral Expression        | 1. Successful group discussions require planning and participation by all | Discussion amongst students about interconnectedness requires both active listening and thought-out answers.
                                                                                     Students plan and distribute responsibilities amongst each other in a group. |
| and Listening          | 2. Understanding the meaning within different types of literature depends on properly analyzing literary components
                3. Organizing structure to understand and analyze factual information
                3. Word meanings are determined by how they are designed and how they are used in context | Students demonstrate comprehension by deconstructing the meaning of unfamiliar words through context clues.
                                                                                     Students examine the structure of governments and international relationships. |
| Reading for All Purposes | 1. Writing literary genres for intended audiences and purposes requires ideas, organization, and voice
                2. Writing informational and persuasive genres for intended audiences and purposes require ideas, organization, and voice develop
                3. Specific editing for grammar, usage, mechanics, and clarity gives writing its precision and legitimacy | Students demonstrate professional, informational writing via presentation of their research.
                                                                                     Students use correct grammar and punctuation through both observations of texts and practice in their own work. |
| Writing and Composition | 1. Individual and group research projects require obtaining information on a topic from a variety of sources and organizing it for presentation
                2. Assumptions can be concealed, and require identification and evaluation
                3. Monitoring the thinking of self and others is a disciplined way to maintain awareness | Students perform primary source research by looking at documents and discussing them with classmates.
                                                                                     Students research and analyze information across sources to construct unbiased questions and hypotheses. |
Colorado Academic Standards Alignment

Seventh Grade

Social Studies

| History | 1. Seek and evaluate multiple historical sources with different points of view to investigate a historical question and to formulate and defend a thesis with evidence.
2. The historical eras, individuals, groups, ideas and themes within regions of the Eastern Hemisphere and their relationships with one another. | - Students study primary documents and synthesize and draw conclusion across them.
- Students study primary documents to form historical questions and theories regarding U.S. relationships with countries in the Eastern Hemisphere. |
| --- | --- | --- |
| Geography | 1. Use geographic tools to gather data and make geographic inferences and predictions.
2. Regions have different issues and perspectives. | - Students use maps to understand cultural differences via geographic implications.
- Students use maps to observe geographical relationships and trace trade routes. |
| Economics | 1. Supply and demand influence price and profit in a market economy.
2. The distribution of resources influences economic production and individual choices (FPL). | - Students discover how globalized systems impact economic and trade decisions. |
| Civics | 1. The different forms of government and international organizations and their influence in the world community.
2. Compare how various nations define the rights, responsibilities and roles of citizens. | - Students examine how the United States is connected to Western Hemisphere countries.
- Students compare and contrast forms of government in these different countries to enhance their understanding of the globalized world. |

Reading Writing & Communication

| Oral Expression and Listening | 1. Formal presentations require preparation and effective delivery.
2. Small and large group discussions rely on active listening and the effective contributions of all participants. | - Discussion amongst students about interconnectness requires both active listening and thought-out answers.
- Students plan and distribute responsibilities amongst each other in a group. |
| Reading for All Purposes | 1. Literary elements, characteristics, and ideas are interrelated and guide the comprehension of literary and fictional texts.
2. Informational and persuasive texts are summarized and evaluated.
3. Purpose, tone, and meaning in word choices influence literary, persuasive, and informational texts reading. | - Students demonstrate comprehension by reconstructing the meaning of unfamiliar words through context clues.
- Students examine the structure of governments and international relationships. |
| Writing and Composition | 1. Composing literary and narrative texts that incorporate a range of stylistic devices demonstrates knowledge of genre features.
2. Organization is used when composing informational and persuasive texts.
3. Editing writing for proper grammar, usage, mechanics, and clarity improves written work. | - Students demonstrate professional informational writing via presentation of their research.
- Students use correct grammar and punctuation through both observations of texts and practice in their own work. |
| Research and Reasoning | 1. Answering a research question logically begins with obtaining and analyzing information from a variety of sources.
2. Logical information requires documented sources.
3. Reasoned material is evaluated for its quality using both its logic and its use of a medium. | - Students perform primary source research by looking at documents and discussing them with classmates.
- Students research, analyze, and document information across sources to construct unbiased questions and hypotheses. |
WHO ARE WE?
Participants

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF REVISING THE LAW?
Students will select an element of the Constitution that either changed or stayed the same in the period between the American Revolution and Reconstruction (i.e. states’ rights vs. federal rights). They will have to identify how and why this element became ingrained in the Constitution and how it was debated, fought over and revised in the period from Revolution to Reconstruction.

SUGGESTIONS FOR READING
- Declaration of Independence
- Common Sense
- Federalist Papers
- Antifederalist Papers
- Articles of Confederation
- Constitution
- The Declaration of Immediate Causes Which Induce and Justify the Secession of South Carolina from the Federal Union
- First Inaugural Address
  Abraham Lincoln

FURTHER QUESTIONING
- Does the Constitution leave this element up for interpretation? If so, what do you believe this interpretation is?
- Are we still debating this element today? If so, why do you think this is?
- Did we fight a conflict over this element? Why was it so contentious?

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING ACTIVITY
Students present their chosen element of the Constitution, and explain how and why it changed/stayed the same. They should then explain if we are still debating and attempting to revise this issue today? Students should offer their personal opinions regarding this issue, as well as their personal solutions supported by facts and evidence. Students present this information to their classmates via written report, graphic display, acting, or some other chosen form of presentation.

EXTENSION: Teachers may choose to have students with opposing topics stage a debate answering the above outlined questions. Teachers may also consider assigned students to groups to argue a particular side of a single, multi-perspectival issue.
| History | 1. Formulate appropriate hypotheses about United States history based on a variety of historical sources and perspectives. 2. The historical eras, individuals, groups, ideas and themes from the origins of the American Revolution through Reconstruction and their relationships with one another | Students assess an element within the Constitution and its evolution from Revolution to Reconstruction. Students research and draw conclusions across a number of primary sources. |
| Geography | 1. Use geographic tools to analyze patterns in human and physical systems. 2. Conflict and cooperation occur over space and resources. | Students use maps to identify demographics geographically. Students use map to understand conflicts and cooperation geographically. |
| Economics | 1. Economic freedom, including free trade, is important for economic growth. 2. Manage personal credit and debt (PFL). | Students explore how economic tensions produced conflict from Revolution to Reconstruction. |
| Civics | 1. Analyze elements of continuity and change in the United States government and the role of citizens over time. 2. The place of law in a constitutional system. | Students understand how elements within the Constitution changed during the same time from Revolution to Reconstruction. Students understand the place of law in a constitutional system, and how the period between Revolution and Reconstruction helped to define this. |

Reading, Writing & Communication

| Oral Expression and Listening | 1. Communication skills and interviewing techniques are required to gather information and to develop and deliver oral presentations. 2. A variety of response strategies clarifies meaning or messages. | Discussion amongst students about change and continuity requires both active listening and thought-out answers. Students exploit difference communication strategies to complete research. |
| Reading for All Purposes | 1. Quality comprehension and interpretation of literary texts demand self-monitoring and self-assessment. 2. Quality comprehension and interpretation of informational and persuasive texts demand monitoring and self-assessment. 3. Context, grammar, and word choice influence the understanding of literary, persuasive, and informational texts. | Students research primary and secondary source documents and draw supported, unbiased conclusions across them. Students use their comprehension skills and context clues to understand complex materials and synthesize across materials. |
| Writing and Composition | 1. Stylistic devices and descriptive details in literary and narrative texts are organized for a variety of audiences and purposes and evaluated for quality. 2. Ideas and supporting details in informational and persuasive texts are organized for a variety of audiences and purposes and evaluated for quality. 3. Editing writing for grammar, usage, mechanics, and clarity is an essential trait of a well-written document. | Students organize and present their research in a meaningful way. Students use correct spelling and grammar. |
| Research and Reasoning | 1. Individual research projects begin with information obtained from a variety of sources, and is organized, documented, and presented using logical procedures. 2. Common fallacies and errors occur in reasoning. 3. Quality reasoning relies on supporting evidence in media. | Students draw conclusions and analyses across a variety of materials. Students understand that not all sources are reliable and corroboration questionable information. |
HIGH SCHOOL

WHO ARE WE?
Critical Thinkers

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE/ROLE OF GOVERNMENT?
Students will select a law outlined in the Constitution, either in its Articles or Amendments. They will then find other founding documents (i.e. the Federalist Papers) that speak to the same issue. Using these primary documents, analysis, and critical thinking students will then decide and defend what they believe the role of government is regarding their particular issue. Students will also compare/contrast how this issue is incorporated into law in another country.

SUGGESTIONS FOR READING
- Declaration of Independence
- Constitution
- Bill of Rights
- Federalist Papers
- Antifederalist Papers

FURTHER QUESTIONING
- What are the social implications of this issue in the United States? In foreign country? In the globalized world?
- What are the economic implications of this issue in the United States? In foreign country? In the globalized world?
- What are the merits of the opposition’s argument?

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING ACTIVITY
Students present their chosen law, and discuss its evolution throughout history, and how it has been applied. Students will then articulate what they believe to be the role of the government in regards to this issue, supporting their stance with evidence. They will then discuss the current social and economic implications of this law, how they think we can solve debates over this law, and how our application of this law compares to that of one another country. Students present this information to their classmates via written report, graphic display, acting, or some other chosen form of presentation.

EXTENSION: Teachers may choose to have students with opposing topics stage a debate answering the above outlined questions. Teachers may also consider assigned students to groups to argue a particular side of a single, multi-perspectival issue.
Colorado Academic Standards Alignment

High School Social Studies

History
1. The historical method of inquiry to ask questions, evaluate primary and secondary sources, critically analyze and interpret data, and develop interpretations defended by evidence from a variety of primary and secondary sources
2. Analyze the key concepts of continuity and change, cause and effect, complexity, unity, and diversity over time
3. The significance of ideas as powerful forces throughout history

- Students research, analyze, and draw conclusions across primary and secondary sources to formulate arguments about the role of government.
- Students the impact of various laws.

Geography
1. Use different types of maps and geographic tools to analyze features on Earth to investigate and solve geographic questions
2. Explain and interpret geographic variables that influence the interaction of people, places, and environments
3. The interconnected nature of the world, its people and places

- Students identify the geographic variables that influence how factions and demographics vote on and pass laws.
- Students understand the interconnected nature of the world, and analyze how countries implement laws differently.

Economics
1. Productive resources - natural, human, capital - are scarce; therefore choices are made about how individuals, businesses, governments, and societies allocate these resources
2. Economic policies impact markets
3. Government and competition impact markets
4. Design, analyze, and apply a financial plan based on short- and long-term financial goals (PFL)
5. Analyze strategic spending, saving, and investment options to achieve the objectives of diversification, liquidity, income, and growth (PFL)
6. The components of personal credit to manage credit and debt (PFL)
7. Identify, develop, and evaluate risk-management strategies (PFL)

- Students analyze how economics, governments, and scarcity of resources impact the passage and implementation of laws.

Civics
1. Research, formulate positions, and engage in appropriate civic participation to address local, state, or national issues or policies
2. Purposes of and limitations on the foundations, structures, and functions of government
3. Analyze how public policy - domestic and foreign - is developed at the local, state, and national levels and compare how policy-making occurs in other forms of government

- Students understand that individuals are part of different groups for different reasons, why cooperation is important, and why rules are important in managing groups.
- Students understand that effective leaders emerge to lead various groups and advocate for certain ideas.
- Students recognize different problem-solving solutions between different factions.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Oral Expression and Listening</th>
<th>Ninth Grade</th>
<th>Tenth Grade</th>
<th>Eleventh Grade</th>
<th>Twelfth Grade</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Oral presentations require effective preparation strategies</td>
<td>1. Content that is gathered carefully and organized well successfully influences an audience</td>
<td>1. Verbal and nonverbal cues impact the intent of communication</td>
<td>1. Students organize and present information regarding the role of government in a meaningful way with both verbal and nonverbal cues</td>
<td>1. Students collaborate with classmates or through both verbal communication and active listening</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Listening critically to comprehend a speaker’s message requires mental and physical strategies to direct and maintain attention</td>
<td>2. Effectively operating in small and large groups to accomplish a goal requires active listening</td>
<td>2. Validity of a message is determined by its accuracy and relevance</td>
<td>2. Students read both primary and secondary source documents in order to draw conclusions about the role of government</td>
<td>2. Students use age-appropriate grammar, vocabulary, and punctuation to articulate their arguments</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Reading for All Purposes</th>
<th>Ninth Grade</th>
<th>Tenth Grade</th>
<th>Eleventh Grade</th>
<th>Twelfth Grade</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Increasingly complex literary elements in traditional and contemporary works of literature require scrutiny and comparison</td>
<td>1. Literary and historical influences determine the meaning of traditional and contemporary literary texts</td>
<td>1. Complex literary texts require critical reading approaches to effectively interpret and evaluate meaning</td>
<td>1. Literary criticism of complex texts requires the use of analysis, interpretation, and evaluative strategies</td>
<td>1. Students research and synthesize ideas across a number of primary and secondary resources in order to develop well-supported arguments</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Increasingly complex informational texts require mature interpretation and study</td>
<td>2. The development of new ideas and concepts within informational and persuasive manuscripts</td>
<td>2. Ideas synthesized from informational texts serve a specific purpose</td>
<td>2. Students use their research to construct organized, well-thought-out argumentative essay</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Writing and Composition</th>
<th>Ninth Grade</th>
<th>Tenth Grade</th>
<th>Eleventh Grade</th>
<th>Twelfth Grade</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Literary and narrative texts develop a controlling idea or theme with descriptive and expressive language</td>
<td>1. Literary or narrative genres feature a variety of stylistic devices to engage or entertain an audience</td>
<td>1. Stylistic and thematic elements of literary or narrative texts can be refined to engage or entertain an audience</td>
<td>1. Students conduct independent research regarding the role of government by analyzing and synthesizing across multiple primary and secondary sources</td>
<td>1. Students use primary and secondary sources of multiple mediums</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Informational and persuasive texts develop a topic and establish a controlling idea or thesis with relevant support</td>
<td>2. Organizational writing patterns inform or persuade an audience</td>
<td>2. Grammar, language usage, mechanics, and clarity are the basis of ongoing refinements and revisions within the writing process</td>
<td>2. Students distinguish facts about the role of government from opinions, but use source material and evidence to support their own opinions</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Writing for grammar, usage, mechanics, and clarity requires ongoing refinements and revisions</td>
<td>3. Grammar, language usage, mechanics, and clarity are the basis of ongoing refinements and revisions within the writing process</td>
<td>3. Writing demands ongoing revisions and refinements for grammar, usage, mechanics, and clarity</td>
<td>3. Students reflect, refine, and articulate their knowledge and beliefs</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Research and Reasoning</th>
<th>Ninth Grade</th>
<th>Tenth Grade</th>
<th>Eleventh Grade</th>
<th>Twelfth Grade</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Informational materials, including electronic sources, need to be collected, evaluated, and analyzed for accuracy, relevance, and effectiveness for answering research questions</td>
<td>1. Collect, analyze, and evaluate information obtained from multiple sources to answer a question, propose solutions, or share findings and conclusions</td>
<td>1. Self-designed research provides insightful information, conclusions, and possible solutions</td>
<td>1. Students conduct independent research regarding the role of government by analyzing and synthesizing across multiple primary and secondary sources</td>
<td>1. Students use primary and secondary sources of multiple mediums</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Effective problem-solving strategies require high-quality reasoning</td>
<td>2. An author’s reasoning is the essence of legitimate writing and requires evaluating text for validity and accuracy</td>
<td>2. Complex situations require critical thinking across multiple disciplines</td>
<td>2. Students distinguish facts about the role of government from opinions, but use source material and evidence to support their own opinions</td>
<td>2. Students reflect, refine, and articulate their knowledge and beliefs</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Evaluating quality reasoning includes the value of intellectual character such as humility, empathy, and confidence</td>
<td>3. Evaluating quality reasoning includes the value of intellectual character such as humility, empathy, and confidence</td>
<td>3. Evaluating quality reasoning includes the value of intellectual character such as humility, empathy, and confidence</td>
<td>3. Students reflect, refine, and articulate their knowledge and beliefs</td>
<td>3. Students reflect, refine, and articulate their knowledge and beliefs</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Logical arguments distinguish facts from opinions; and evidence defines reasoned judgment</td>
<td>4. Logical arguments distinguish facts from opinions; and evidence defines reasoned judgment</td>
<td>4. Logical arguments distinguish facts from opinions; and evidence defines reasoned judgment</td>
<td>4. Logical arguments distinguish facts from opinions; and evidence defines reasoned judgment</td>
<td>4. Logical arguments distinguish facts from opinions; and evidence defines reasoned judgment</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
CONNECTION LESSON ★

WHY STUDY WHO WE ARE?
To understand that we should afford DIGNITY, HONOR, and RESPECT to each other, our country, and our Veterans.

CRITICAL THINKING QUESTIONS

- What do the words “dignity,” “honor,” and “respect,” mean?
- What is unique about the United States? Why should we dignify, honor, and respect our country?
- What is unique about our military and our Veterans, and why should we afford them dignity, honor, and respect?
- Our Veterans face many issues and challenges following active service. How can we assist them in these challenges? Are we currently doing enough?
- Does everyone deserve dignity, honor, and respect?
- What can we gain by affording those we disagree with dignity, honor, and respect?
ASSEMBLY ★

HOW CAN WE SHARE WHO WE ARE?
The assembly is the culmination of the education program experience, and the best way for teachers and students of all grade levels to share their new understanding about American history, heritage and identity. After completion of the lessons, the HONOR BELL FOUNDATION will visit your school, bringing along experts, Veterans, and the Honor Bell. They will utilize their mission—DIGNITY, HONOR, and RESPECT—to bridge the academic and experiential elements of the curriculum.

NEXT STEPS

1. Decide where the curriculum will work for you in terms of lesson planning and schedules. Also consider how in-depth you will be going in terms of the lessons.
2. Contact the HONOR BELL FOUNDATION to schedule your assembly sometime after your students complete the lesson portion of the program.
3. Consider engaging local Veterans, not only for the Assembly, but perhaps throughout the process.
4. After the assembly, debrief with your students. After the complete experience, they may want to share what they have gained from the program.
5. Contact the HONOR BELL FOUNDATION about potential fieldtrip opportunities, or about partner organizations where students may be able to continue working on their projects.

FINALLY
Keep us in mind for future classes, if you know other educators that might be interested, or if you know any Veterans that might be interested in the Bell Honor Guard or Veteran Outreach programs.
CONTACT US

THE HONOR BELL FOUNDATION
P.O. BOX 12460 | DENVER, CO 80212 | 720.282.9182

We are a Colorado Nonprofit, 501(c)(3) corporation.

LOUIS OLIVERA, Executive Director | lou.olivera@honorbell.org
MICHELLE MALLIN, Chief of Staff | michelle.mallin@honorbell.org

BRENT GUGLIELMINO, Director of Education and Outreach | brent.guglielmino@honorbell.org
DAVID MARCHAND, Director of Bell Honors | david.marchand@honorbell.org
ALAN BUCKNAM, Director of Marketing | alan.bucknam@honorbell.org

THE HONOR BELL
FORGED FROM HONOR