Walking On Water

I doubt there is anyone in our auditorium this morning who hasn't felt there is more to life than the mundane routine we find ourselves in every day. Something inside tells us there's more. As believers many of us have asked ourselves why we can't make a difference. Why haven't we made an impact on our culture, neighborhood, or even in our own homes?

Could it be as simple as we are not willing to leave the comfort of that daily routine and take hold of the greatest adventure offered to humanity? I am talking about the life changing adventure of truly walking in Christ. Could we be like the 11 apostles in that boat when Jesus walked out to them on the water in the middle of a storm? There were 12 apostles in the boat, but only one asked if he could walk to Jesus on water. The other 11 would not get out of the boat.

I suggest that had the 11 gotten out of the boat, it would have changed their perspective about everything, even the mundane. When we begin to look at things through God's eyes rather than our own, we will see that there is kingdom value in everything we do. Paul told the church in Colossae, "Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as working for the Lord, not for men." (Col. 3:23) When this is our focus, nothing is mundane, nothing is for naught. It all has purpose and can be done to the glory of God. But we have to get out of the boat. It's the only way we can walk on water.

In the next several weeks we will be looking at what it takes to become what we've been challenged to be from our Acts study. We must share the gospel, and to do so, we must trust God. We have learned that God is faithful and He is always there. He is working out things in His way every moment of every day. We have also seen His providence, and we can know with confidence that His will is going to be accomplished. That which we once thought to be mundane becomes more important than ever.

Getting out of the boat will be difficult for everyone in some area of our lives. It will be different for all of us because of our unique personalities, circumstances, and consequences. Having said that, however, God wants us to be successful spiritually because He is glorified. He will help us get out of our boats. He can help us overcome our inadequacies, whether they are legitimate or simply road blocks stuck in our heads. God can make world changers out of the most unlikely. He can take the quiet and give them boldness, and take the arrogant and bless them with Godly humility.

If you have ever read the story of Peter walking on water in Matthew 14, then you know this is true. Jesus wants all of us to be walking on water, not literally, but in the sense of letting go of our crutches, whatever they are, and trusting in Him to see us through. Paul encouraged us when he wrote the church in Philippi and said, "I can do everything through him who gives me strength." He wrote this letter from prison. Paul knew what we should know. God has not asked us to do anything that cannot be done. He didn't promise it would be easy, but He did promise He would be with us. Can you imagine how difficult it must have been for Christ to get out of his boat the night of the last supper so that He could begin that walk to the cross? Praise God, He did it. Because He did, so can we!

Science and Faith Seminars will be held every second Friday of even numbered months, except for December, from 7-9PM at the New Mexico Museum of Natural History and Science and at dates determined at the Christian Student Center. These seminars will lay out the objective, scientific evidence comparing the merits of a materialistic worldview to those of a theistic worldview and will illuminate the interaction between science and faith.
